Cutback in jobs at Smith

A production cutback at the A. O. Smith Corp. plant in Granite City—the first since development of the energy crisis—was announced yesterday.

A company spokesman said the cutback will become effective Monday with the layoff of 80 shift workers at the end of their shifts Friday.

The company issued this notice to employees:

"We received notice this week of a reduction in customers' orders for 1974 (auto) frames. This will make it necessary to cut back our production from three and a half lines to three lines, effective Dec. 3.

"We regret that as a result of this reduction in orders, approximately 80 employees will be laid off following their shifts on Friday, Nov. 30.

"Should further changes be necessary, we will endeavor to notify you promptly."

The company has been employing 1,280 employees.

The A. O. Smith plant manufactures auto frames for the Chevrolet plant at St. Louis.

Yesterday's cutback notice followed announcement earlier this week that General Motors Corp. will close its passenger car assembly lines in St. Louis during the week of Dec. 17-21 because of slow sales of standard-size autos.

The reduction in car orders was attributed to the gasoline shortage.

That order will affect 3,500 workers, while another 5,000 will continue production of trucks and Corvettes.

The St. Louis plant also will close as usual Dec. 24-26 for the Christmas holidays.

Orville Hodge Hurt in crash

Orville E. Hodge of Granite City and former state auditor, was injured when his car crashed into the rear of a stopped tractor-trailer on Route 157 at Route 40 in Collinsville at 5:10 p.m. Tuesday.

Hodge, 68, who resides at 3216 Carlson Ave., was brought here in a Collinsville Fire Department ambulance and was admitted to the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital in satisfactory condition.

He suffered facial cuts including lacerations to his eyelids, left cheek, forehead and nose. Several ribs also were cracked. X-rays were taken of his skull, spine, chest and facial bones.

Collinsville police said the tractor-trailer of Donald King, Hollywood Heights, was stopped on Route 157, waiting to turn left onto Route 40 when the car struck the rear. What caused the accident is not known.

A member of Hodge's family said he was awake and alert when visited.

Lee still critical

Dr. John E. Lee, 51, mayor of Venice, remained in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, where he has been since Nov. 19.

Mayor Lee suffered a massive cerebral hemorrhage at his home at 1:30 p.m. on Nov. 19. He has been in a coma since that time.

40-vehicle crashes in fog on -270 injure 13

At least 40 vehicles were involved in a series of crashes in dense fog early Tuesday morning along Interstate 270 between Route 3 and Route 111 north of Granite City.

The first emergency call to the scene was received at 6:40 a.m. Tuesday.

One witness described the scene as "a horrible thing to see with smashed vehicles everywhere."

Four automobiles were destroyed by fire, about 12 others were demolished by collisions and at least nine other cars and 15 tractor-trailers were damaged in the series of crashes. One trailer's rear wheel carriage was knocked about 10 feet from the trailer.

Thirteen persons were injured, seven seriously enough to be hospitalized, but police said they were amazed that no one was killed or more seriously injured. Most of those hurt suffered small cuts, scrapes and bruises.

One woman escaped near-certain death by seconds. A tractor-trailer truck jackknifed in front of her car trying to avoid a wreck in front of it.

The trailer came to rest blocking both westbound lanes.

The car driven by the woman slammed into the tractor and a second tractor-trailer then slammed into the auto. The woman walked away without injury.

As she was leaving the car, another tractor-trailer struck the trailer behind her car, knocking the back wheels from the trailer and further damaging the car. Moments later another car hit the rear trailer and the wheelers trailer landed on the rear of the car.

The woman's car which ended up in the middle of the wreckage was reduced in length by almost half by the crashes. She said if she had not left the vehicle, she may have been killed.

Four cars erupted into flames as they were struck from behind. The Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department called for assistance from the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department but the two groups combined were unable to save the cars which were destroyed by flames.

The dense fog did not lift until about 10:30 a.m. Tuesday and numerous accidents were reported while visibility was reduced.

Minor accidents were reported further east on I-270, one involving a school bus with only the driver inside. Several cars were involved in a crash on Route 111 near Sand Prairie Lane. No injuries were reported from those accidents.

State troopers and sheriff's deputies worked throughout Tuesday attempting to clear the edge of the westbound lanes of the interstate. After cleanup operations were concluded the gigantic task of figuring out who was involved started.

Paperwork still had not been completed today and a complete list of automobiles involved was not available.

Seven persons were admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital here. Admitted were: Jerome Distler, 45, Worden, suffering neck pains; Janet Hilmes, 29, Highland, multiple injuries;

Mill's growth at crossroads

Calling for business firms to make "a tremendous effort to attain a higher level of public opinion and trust," Granite City Steel President Howard M. "Pete" Love said last night the local plant is among those at the crossroads due to Americans' attitude toward free enterprise.

Love addressed a gathering of 300 at the annual Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce membership dinner, held at Sunset Hills Country Club.

"We can see significant future growth for this plant if production and profitability continue to increase," he said.

The beginnings of real improvement in understanding among our employees as to what is at stake over the long term can be seen in some of the production records established in the last several months.

"We must continue to find ways and means to improve efficiency and reduce costs. Every effort is being made to explain to our people what is going on at our plant and in the steel industry as a whole."

"We are doing our best to reverse the declining reputation of business here at home."

President Love continued, "Ralph Waldo Emerson once remarked that the solar system has no anxiety about its reputation."

"Nothing short of the solar system can afford to ignore public opinion today, and certainly not business."

"Institutions are supported by the public only so long as they are thought to serve the public, and this is where the free enterprise institution is in trouble."

Love noticed that the young are not nearly as critical of business when they have been exposed to it first hand. We need to do more of that kind of missionary work—to encourage able students to become interns to business as they are now encouraged by a number of foundations to become interns to government and welfare agencies.

"Business needs to do a better job of explaining itself and its real significance to survive in a society that is the freest, most complicated and—in many respects—the most experimental the world has ever seen."

"The young are looking for significance and they can be attracted to free enterprise only if they understand that—in providing a bewildering array of goods and services—our business system also underwrites two conditions which have been desired by men in all times and places . . . freedom and order."

"The free enterprise economy is the indispensable core which supports our society and our idealism as well as our efforts to build a workable and just society."

"It provides freedom of choice to an extent impossible in a social economy or in any planned economy which assumes that the planners know what the people want or should have."

"The basic postulate of free enterprise is that the consumer is king . . . not the producer, and not the bureaucrat."

"We must articulate these principles more effectively than we have in the past," President Love told the Chamber of Commerce gathering.

"Several years ago a group of businesses in the Tri-Cities sponsored an investigation into community attitudes toward business. The most common complaint was that business did not sincerely care about the community and was not concerned with the success or failure of community projects."

"Business was criticized for not showing more social responsibility, for not doing a better job of pollution control. There also was general agreement that labor-management relations in the Tri-Cities left much to be desired. It was obvious business had not been successful in explaining how and why it operates to the satisfaction of either union leadership or the rank and file."

"Let's examine those opinions. Does business in the Tri-Cities care about the area and about the success of community projects? Any business with a plant here would be awfully short sighted to ignore the community. But let's look more closely at this matter of business and social responsibility."

"It has become popular these days to say that business must assume responsibility for all sorts of problems—for maintaining full employment, cleaning up ghettos, providing day-care center for women employees with pre-school children, and so forth. Behind all this is the inference that it is not quite respectable any longer to concentrate on making a profit."

"What this philosophy indicates is the urgent need for a better public understanding of business, and of what business actually means to a community like Granite City."

"Take our friends at A. O. Smith. They are certainly active in civic and community affairs, but my feeling is that A. O. Smith's main contribution to this area is that it produces auto frames by the thousands, employs lots of Tri-Cities residents and pays a substantial tax bill every year."

"A. O. Smith also buys about 100,000 tons of steel a year from Granite City Steel, which helps us provide the same kind of benefits they do."

"Granite City Steel has been able to expand production and shipments on a profitable basis during the last two years."

"Our shipments used to run about 1,250,000 tons a year. We will ship about 2,100,000 tons in 1974 as a result of some plant improvements and our ability to obtain new materials and slabs from other National Steel Corp. divisions."

"With growth, we have been able to maintain our employment at a high level of about 6,000."

"These jobs, generated by our ability to operate profitably, certainly exist at a good time for the Tri-Cities when you reflect that two of our one-time large employers, finding it impossible to operate profitably, have closed down."

"The most socially responsible duty we can perform for the Tri-Cities is to provide a large, healthy payroll."

"In 1972, we paid about $200,000 in wages, salaries and benefits. And more than half went into the pockets of employees who live in the Tri-Cities."

"We have invested close to $53,000,000 for purchase of goods and services from suppliers in the Tri-Cities and elsewhere in the St. Louis area. And about one-third the property taxes collected in this township and city came from Granite City Steel."

"Operating profitably, we were also able to carry forward our extensive pollution control program which is aimed at reducing emissions from our steel facilities by about 90 per cent."

"We have invested close to $14 million in air, water and solid waste pollution control in the last seven or eight years. We have in our budgets the prospects of another $15 or $16 million for additional pollution control facilities."

"This is a large effort for a plant the size of Granite City Steel and it has already made Granite City, Ill., a cleaner, better place to live."

"It has not, however, satisfied our critics. We are still harassed for not having done nearly enough. Here, again, we need a higher level of public understanding and trust."

"As it is, we are too often fighting a sort of optical illusion."

Court decision brings state $17 million in school funds

For the third time in as many months, the Illinois Office of Public Instruction has won a suit against the Nixon administration's impoundment of Congressionally approved funds for education. State School Superintendent Michael J. Bakalis has announced.

The latest decision, handed down by the U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C. will bring an estimated $17 million additional federal education funds to Illinois. The favorable decision came in the Pennsylvania vs. Weinberger suit which was joined by 10 other states, including Illinois.

The state joined the action June 27, 1973. On June 28, Judge Joseph Waddy issued a preliminary injunction freeing the funds. Judge Waddy further made it a class action, applicable to all states, whether they filed separately or not.

The money was appropriated by Congress, but then withheld, or "impounded," from spending by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Commenting on the action, Dr. Bakalis said: "The $17 million favorable decision by the Federal District Court in Washington, D.C., proves again that states can effectively balance the power of the federal government in favor of schools when they work together."

"This suit, as well as two earlier cases in which Illinois won additional education funds, is an example of the type of advocacy position the state office should be taking in behalf of school districts."

"I also believe that the successful legal action makes it clear that the courts take a dim view of administrative impoundment of funds which have already been approved for spending by our Congress."

This suit brings the total Illinois will receive as the result of impoundment suits to $20.6 million since September.

Included in the $17,074,848 for Illinois is money for the following programs: Title I, $8,091,032; Title II, $809,202; Title III, $2,573,673; Adult Education, $1,649,444; Vocational Education, $2,202,036 (grants to state vocational education programs); Vocational Education, $50,956 (consumer and homemaker education);

In play cast at sight school

Brenda Asher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Asher, 2620 Pine St., will be a member of the cast in the forthcoming play "Home to Mother" to be presented Friday at the Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School, Jacksonville.

The play, a one-act comedy written by Mary Lawrence, is directed by John R. Dietrich, speech instructor at the school. Dramatics is one of many extra-curricular activities available to high school students at the school.

Vocational Education, $437,390 (disadvantaged and handicapped); Vocational Education, $234,134 (work study).

The decision, which affects more than $500 million in education funds nationally, is subject to appeal.

A breakdown on how the additional Illinois funds will be spent by county will be made available by the state education office at a later date.

No 'safe' candidates

By KEN WATSON
Springfield — Know nothing about politics?

Run for office next year. That's the advice from some of the most proficient politicians beneath the Statehouse dome including a lot of legislators. A substantial number of the latter are, in effect, taking their own advice and not running for re-election next year.

There are abundant Capitol predictions that when the 1973 legislative session follows the regular session following the 1974 election it will include more new members than ever before. For 1974 is being heralded as the year of the new faces in politics. Republicans know they are in deep trouble because of the Watergate fiasco, but in Illinois the Democrats, who have had their share of scandals involving state figures, are apprehensive, too.

At the Statehouse the word is that it really doesn't matter too much which party you belong to. If you're an incumbent for any office you're in trouble.

So far the only notable exception to this feeling is Democrat U. S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson. He is fortunate in possessing a name long identified with honesty and high integrity in Illinois government and this is a big plus.

Walker's surprising 1972 primary upset of then Lt. Gov. Paul Simon. If it could happen to Simon, it is said, it could happen to anyone.

The 1974 campaign at all levels is rapidly shaping up as one of the most weird ones in Illinois history. A flood of candidates are expected in the primaries.

Any candidate is going to have more trouble than in many years in the raising of campaign money. Past contributors are so irritated upon learning how much of their money has been spent that they are keeping the checkbooks closed this time.

Traditional politicians are worried as never before. The word beneath the Statehouse is that there is no "safe" candidate anywhere.

named in honor of two veteran Scouters, Henry D. Karandjoff and Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr. Strange announced plans are now underway in co-operation with the Cahokia Lodge Order of the Arrow for an intensified promotion for 1974 summer camp attendance.

Cahokia Lodge Chief Mike Bilbrey reported that the local Order of the Arrow lodge was one of 12 out of 460 lodges nationally to receive the E. Turner Goodman award for excellence in supporting the year-round camping experience for units.

Bilbrey announced that fundraising efforts conducted for a new troop campsite to be opened next summer will culminate before the end of this year.

It was reported by Robert Simon, chairman of the organization and extension committee, that the local council presently is first in percentage of youth membership gain and second in percentage of unit gain over the last year among the 17 councils in Area Three.

Simon presented three Scout leaders with red lanterns for being instrumental in organizing new scout units in a recent "Lamp Lighter" program.

Receiving the lanterns were: G. H. Sternberg for his work in organizing Post 120, a construction post; Mrs. Pat Poole who received two lanterns for her work in organizing two Cub Scout Packs, Pack 121 at Wilson School and Pack 93 at Eagle Park; and Strange for his work in getting Post 10-33 started, a law enforcement specialty post sponsored by the Granite City police.

Advancement Chairman Leo Schermer reported that 20 Eagle Scouts were in the 1973 class of Eagles named for Arthur D. Roseman.

Dr. Thomas Layloff Jr., activities chairman, said that 1973 was one of the busiest in recent years for the Council. Activities included Scout-Oramas in each district, Cub Scout day camp with 200 Cub Scouts participating, 800 Scouts and leaders participating in the council camp-out, and the winter event "Journey to the Moon."

Other events included camps in each of the three districts, Council recognition dinner in February, a contingent of Scouts attending the National Jamboree and planning a trip for Scouts and Explorers next summer.

Jack Holshouser, explorer chairman, said that activities included olympics, road rally and a program planning conference. He said that interest surveys have been taken in the area schools which will assist in organizing more Explorer Posts.

Training of unit leaders is now done on a more individual basis, according to Lou Bobka, leadership training chairman. The training committee gives training to new leaders almost immediately following recruitment.

Finances are the major problem of the local council, according to Norman Kinder, finance chairman. "We are serving more boys than ever before and provide more services and activities, but our finances have fallen short of the need of Scouting in the area," Kinder stated.

Retiring President Gillie told the group: "I consider serving as council president as one of the highlights of my life. I want to thank all the volunteers, den mothers, unit leaders and members of the board for all their wonderful support of the

E. G. Schmitt has surgery

E. G. Schmitt, retired former assistant vice-president of Illinois Power Co., has undergone surgery at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, for the insertion of a heart pacemaker to correct a partial blockage.

Schmitt, who resides at 2408 Cleveland Blvd., was released from intensive care this week and was reported improving today. He will remain in the hospital several more days. His son, Robert Schmitt, of Wilmington, Del., an executive of DuPont, flew here to be with him.

Tree of Lights gifts $2,667

A total of 104 lights is twining today on the Salvation Army's traditional "Tree of Lights," located in Civic Park in the 1300 block of Niedringhaus Avenue.

Each illuminated bulb represents a gift of $25 to the 1974 fund raising drive. Today's total amounting to $2,667, or close to 20 per cent of the $13,500 campaign goal, Ralph Astorin, drive chairman, reported.

Through Wednesday afternoon, more than 300 families have requested Christmas food baskets at the Salvation Army office, 1909 Grand Ave., Captain Ronald J. Kerley, commander, said this morning.

The 300 basket request figure may be doubled, as the busiest days for accepting applications are anticipated today and Friday, the final date to apply, he noted.

Those wishing to receive Christmas aid may apply at the Salvation Army office from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 4 p.m.

A jury awarded Mrs. Marshall $150,000 in the loss of her husband's support, and $20,000 in the loss of her son. Parmlay commended Robertson on his handling of the case during the circuit court proceedings and recommended that Robertson be the attorney handling the appeal.

In still another case, council members agreed to retain the law firm of Armstrong & Wham of Edwardsville to represent Granite City in a suit for $3,085,225 filed by George Mihu of Granite City who became paralyzed after an accident last March 25.

The suit, filed in circuit court at Edwardsville, is directed against the city and Police Lt. Everett Kelly. Mihu charged in his complaint that he was trapped in a car in the accident and that Kelly, despite advice that Mihu's removal await the arrival of trained emergency personnel, removed Mihu from the car, allegedly resulting in spinal injuries that caused Mihu's paralysis.

The suit was filed three weeks ago and has not yet been scheduled for trial.

Occupational program opportunities growing

By SELMA NELSON Coordinator.

Peopl Personnel Services
Granite City High School-South
Vocational education has been an integral part of the Granite City schools for more than 40 years, beginning with woodshop programs and the formation of the vocational school program when the Vocational Building was built, housing a vocational shop program recognized as one of the finest in the country.

Expanded to include an occupational education program, there now are opportunities for students to engage in specialized occupations with the help of community facilities. Occupational programs are offered in two categories—cooperative education and extended classroom work under the supervision of the recently appointed Coordinator of Occupational Services Don Shaffner.

The cooperative education program provides work experience at a facility in which the employer provides training and experience opportunities in the occupation. In this program, students work half a day at their jobs earning one credit each semester, and they also are paid while they learn.

Earnings range from $1.50 per hour to as much as $3 per hour, depending upon the type of job. Work experience is offered in industrial occupations, office occupations—business, marketing and management—as well as personal and public occupations.

At the present time, students in the cooperative education program are working in office occupations at Owens-Illinois Forest Products Division in Madison, Byron Bookkeeping in Mitchell, Triple A Credit, Mendoza's Sporting Goods, and the office of Dr. M. Gerald Baggett.

Students in food service occupations are working at the Ponderosa, George, Lindsey's, Steak House and the Bradford House. Reeves Concrete Products, Inc., also works with the Cooperative Education program through student employment in industrial occupations.

Under the supervision of their instructor, Norma Lesko, several students in the special education program are employed in food service, newspaper dispatching and construction work.

Shaffner is working with civic groups and interested persons in the community to expand opportunities for students who, at the present time, must be at least 16 years-of-age and a junior or senior in high school. Future programs are contemplated for students 14 to 16 years-of-age in the hope of keeping them in school to complete their high school education. Plans are underway to expand the program in business and in home economics.

The programs classified as extended classroom provide intensive training in occupational areas but offer no compensations. Students spend three hours per day in regular classes with trained instructors directing the training sessions. At the present time, these programs include cosmetology and health occupations.

Contracts have been arranged with local schools of cosmetology to provide training so that students may pass the required state tests. Applicants are screened both by the high school and the cosmetology school responsible for the training.

Students spend four semesters and one summer session in the training program, earning one credit for each school term. Earl and Marcella

Tucker of the Granite City School of Beauty Culture and Joe Stemmer of the Joseph School of Fashion are responsible for the training in cosmetology.

Extended classroom activities in health occupations are conducted at St. Elizabeth Hospital. John Holt, personnel director of St. Elizabeth Hospital, and Virginia Foster, R.N., are in charge of training in the health occupations.

Applicants are screened both by the school and the hospital and are accepted on the basis of interest in the field, health records, maturity, attendance, teacher recommendations and academic skills. Students earn one credit each semester and are in training three hours per day for one or two semesters, depending on the program. Interested students may obtain application forms for either the occupational education program or the extended classroom program from their high school counselors.

South awards banquet Monday

Granite City High School South will honor its soccer, cross-country and football teams during its annual Fall Athletic Banquet Monday in the school's cafeteria and auditorium beginning at 6 p.m.

Radio personality Joe May will serve as master of ceremonies and will introduce Ray Sonnenberg as the guest speaker.

A graduate of Collinsville Township High School, where he was named an all-state football and basketball player, Sonnenberg graduated from St. Louis University where he attended on a sports scholarship.

A starting end on that university's football team he also lettered three times in basketball as a sophomore and once as a senior. Named to the NCAA Missouri Valley All-American team, Sonnenberg was a member of the team which played against the Harlem Globetrotters in the World Series of basketball. He presently is a member of the Illinois High School Officials' Association, is a Missouri Valley Conference basketball official and a head linesman of the National Football League.

In addition to honoring its athletes, the school will award the Miss School Spirit Award to a deserving young lady.

Persons wishing to attend the dinner at the school cafeteria may purchase tickets for $2.25 each from Roger Smith, the athletic coordinator, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays at GCHS South.

There is no admission charge for the awards presentation in the schools auditorium.

Red Devils win opener

The Venice Red Devils, with coach Richard Essington at the helm, continued last season's winning ways Tuesday night by defeating the visiting Columbia Eagles 57-38 in the first season game clash for each team.

Venice dominated the entire game by jumping in front 17-9 in the first period, but leading only by two points 24-22 in the second period.

Second half action saw Venice score 16 points to Columbia's six, and 17 points in the final period to the visitors' 10 points.

The Red Devils were led in scoring by 6-foot senior forward

J. B. Harmon, who made 18 of the teams total points, and last year's all-state cager Ron Henry with 12.

"Harmon carried us in the first half," said Essington. "He had almost every rebound coming off the board."

"Probably one of the big surprises I had was junior guard Jeff Corrie who got us 11 points and had a real good defensive ball game."

Essington said the close 24-22 halftime score necessitated a change from man-to-man to a zone defense which was instrumental in the Eagles' low second half scoring, forcing the visitors to keep the ball outside and away from close-in shots. Other Red Devils earning baskets were Tony Sifton with nine points, Reggie Gardner with six and Harvey Logan with one. Gardner, a 5'10" guard, was the only sophomore in the starting lineup.

Columbia, plagued with injuries which sidelined two of its starting players, was led in scoring by 6'5" center Todd Stumpi, a junior who last year averaged about 18 points per game.

Venice, which lost only one regular season game last year, will cautiously meet the Madison Trojans Friday, Dec. 7, at 4 p.m. at Madison.

Steeler cagers to open at Springfield

The Steelers of GCHS North will begin their first year in varsity basketball competition when they face Springfield Griffin at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at Springfield, Ill. North will see action at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Okaville.

Head Coach William Ohlendorf, who led the Venice High School team to third place state honors last season, views both schools as having good physical size, in their players. "Springfield-Griffin," says the head mentor, "has good depth, can shoot well and is strong on the boards. Its size runs from 6'0" to 6'5" and utilizes the man-to-man defense."

"Okaville probably has two of the best players a school its size has ever seen in 6'2" Dan

Schuesler and 6'6" Jeff Schraeder."

Ohlendorf has yet to name his starting five cagers.

North banquet today

Granite City High School North will honor the Steeler cross-country team at a mini-banquet at 6:30 p.m. today in the school's cafeteria. Norman Owea of GCHS North announced that season tickets for Steeler basketball and wrestling events still are available and may be purchased at tonight's banquet.

SIUE cagers open Saturday at Perdue

Coach Jim Dudley and his Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team will open the 1973-74 season Saturday afternoon against Big Ten Conference power Purdue University at West Lafayette, Indiana's Mackey Arena. Tip off time is 4:05 p.m.

It will be the first of 10 games for Dudley's Dandies on the road before he'll unveil his Cougar cagers at home in a contest with Quincy College, Wednesday, Jan. 9.

The Cougars, under the coaching of Dudley the last three years, have had two winning seasons, but the young coach still needs four victories to claim an overall winning record at SIUE. In his first year, he took the Cougars to their first winning season when SIUE, after a tremendous start, finished the 1970-71 campaign with a 15-11 mark. Overall at SIUE Dudley is now 37-41.

In 1971-72, seriously hurt by injuries, the Cougars plummeted to a 5-21 season. Last year, showing very definite signs that Dudley's brand of basketball was catching on at SIUE, the Cougars roared back to post a very impressive 16-9 record, a performance which just barely missed gaining SIUE a post-season tournament bid.

After a bruising pre-season practice, the Cougars will open against the Boilermakers of Purdue depending on eight players who figure to see most of the action this year, returning letterwinners, Thurman (Butch) Ferree, a guard, and Leon Wright, center and the squad's only senior; Keith McFarland, 6-4 guard from Troy, Ill.; 6-5 John Strubberg, forward from Belleville; 6-5 Doug (Pick) Young, forward from East Louis; 6-9 Tommy Butler, guard from Gary, Ind.; 6-5 Kevin Kellerman, deadeye shot and forward from Breese, and 6-3 Don Koppenhaver, guard from Alton.

Four others on the varsity squad, Tom Howard (sloved by an ankle injury) from Cahokia, Ill.; Rick LaRose from Robinson, 5-9 Roy Rieckenberg from Steelville, and little (5-9) Mike Van Hecke of East Moline, will be used primarily in firemen's roles.

After opening against Purdue, the Cougars will return to take on the always tough McKendree College Bearcats of Coach Harry Statham, Wednesday night at Lebanon, McKendree, which dealt the Cougars one of their nine defeats last season in a double overtime battle, is off to its customary winning start, moving down all opposition.

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 7-8, the Cougars will participate in the University of Missouri at St. Louis tournament.

Central tops Trojans, MHS-South clash next

The Trojan cagers of Madison High had their record evened to 2-2 by an 83-64 loss on the road Tuesday night against Central of St. Louis.

Madison, which defeated the St. Louis team 62-55 last year, failed to come from behind after trailing by only one point 20-19 in the first period and two points at halftime, 38-36.

Central extended its lead to seven points, 60-53, in the third period on shots by Mike McKinney who totaled 24 in the game, and Arthur McFadden who had 18 points.

The host school added 23 points in the final period to hand the Trojans their second consecutive loss in four outings.

Chris Stanley and Jon Henke led the Trojans in scoring with 15 points each while Rudolph Bradley had 12, Ron Glasper 11, Carl Campbell 9, Daryl Franklin 5, Willie Shearby 3 and Norman Whitehead 2.

Henke, 6'1 forward pivot man, had one of the best shots of the game when he put one through the hoop from the corner baseline. Madison brought the ball down court after Central had scored and, while Henke was pivoting to the corner, Ron Glasper passed the ball to Campbell. Campbell attempted an under the basket shot which was caught on the rebound by Stanley. Stanley then passed it to the waiting Henke in the corner, who in turn put it through the net for two points. Henke also had six assists, forced eight turnovers, and made seven of nine free throws.

"We played beautiful first half basketball," said Coach Larry Graham. "Everything went wrong in the second half. Central ran right through our press."

Franklin, who missed the Collinsville tournament with the flu and a sore ankle, came off the bench late in the game to give the Trojans five points and one assist. He forced four enemy turnovers and hit on one of four free throws while committing only one foul.

Central forced 25 turnovers while Madison initiated 26. The host school more than doubled the score on defensive rebounds with 25 to the Trojans' 12.

MHS will attempt to increase its margin in the win column Friday when it plays host to the Warriors of GCHS South on the Madison home court at 6:30 p.m.

"South," remarks Graham, "is in the rebuilding stage right now, but we certainly won't take them for granted. We have a lot of respect for Mike Martinez and 6'5 Ken Bertrand."

The Warriors defeated Madison in regular season action last year by a score of 63-57.

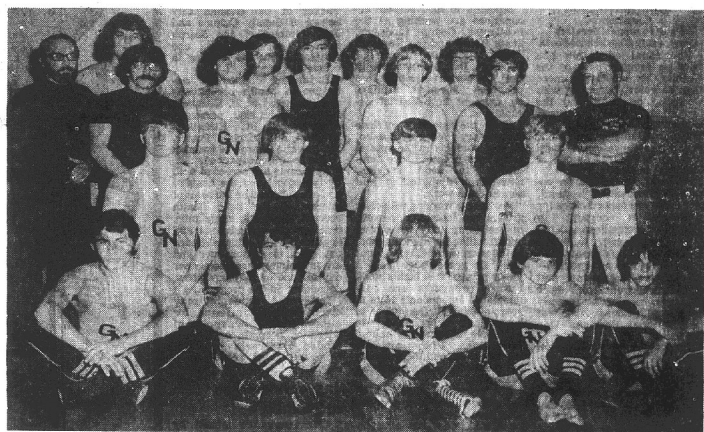

Bryan Wilkinson, South's new game coach, told the Press-Record, "Madison has a definite advantage over us because they have four games under their belts."

"We are untried, but we'll be prepared for anything the Trojans throw at us."

The Warriors will be represented on the court by 5'10" guard Martinez, Bob Hutchings, a 6'2" guard, 6'4" center Terry Hollis, and forwards Ken Bertrand at 6'5 and Rick Fancher at 6'3.

Ready, willing and able South cagers open Friday

By KEN THOMPSON

Press-Record Staff Writer
If the old adage "success builds success" is true, with cage mentor Bryan Wilkinson at the helm, the basketball Warriors of Granite City High School South should prove to be a winning team, year after year.

After graduating from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Wilkinson spent a year as assistant coach at Vandalia before latching on to the team of a community in northern Illinois called Dwight, with a student population of between 400 and 500.

There he picked up a team which had only three winning seasons in 30 years, and he guided it to seven consecutive winning seasons, including two regional titles and three straight conference championships.

"One of the disadvantages of a small school is that a coach doesn't have many boys to choose from. You have to demand a lot from a few boys."

In his first year at Granite City South, the Warriors' new head coach is faced with two problems, not enough boys from which to choose, and not having enough experienced basketball players from which to draw.

"I hope people realize we are in a rebuilding stage," says Wilkinson. "Mike Martinez is the only experienced player on the team."

The coach told the Press-Record that he is expecting Martinez to be the leader of the ball club. "We are going to have to build around him, because around him, he is the only one with a lot of experience that we can look to."

Wilkinson said, although South lost a few experienced players to the new GCHS North, he feels his squad has some players who are capable of stepping in to do the job.

"I'm not saying these boys are accomplished basketball players now, but they are getting closer all the time, and by the end of this season, people are going to see real polished players," he predicted.

Of the 15 players on the 1973 team, the five who are expected to lead the Warriors into battle are Martinez, a 5'10" senior guard; 64 senior center Terry Hollis, who missed last season with an injured knee; Ken Bertrand, a junior forward at 6'5"; Bob Hutchings, a 6'2" junior guard; and Rich Fancher, a forward at 6'3" and the only sophomore on the squad.

Rounding out the team are 6'0" Dale Williams, 6'1" Keith Gehling, and 6'4" Mike Mezo, all seniors. Junior players are 6'3" David Naglich, 5'9" Kirk Champion, 6'2" Tom Schooley, 6'0" Greg Terrell, 6'8" Ed Hesselzen, 6'0" Tim Dillard, and 6'3" Alan Miller.

"I'm not the least concerned about what they did in the past," remarks Wilkinson. "I'm concerned about what they do this year and in the future."

"I think it's a shame people judge players only by the box score. A lot of times a player making 10 points does a lot more for his team in terms of rebounding, defense and ball movement than the young man who makes 20."

"Sure, you have to have people score points, but you also have to have people do other things," he explained.

A coach doesn't believe in saying his team is going to play a zone defense or man-on-man, and nothing else, Wilkinson states. "We are going to play what the kids do best and whatever the situation dictates.

"We are going to be prepared to do any number of things defensively, especially since we aren't as big as other teams, and possibly not even as fast."

"We have to be versatile, smart, and take advantage of the best our talent can produce," he offered.

A philosopher as well as mentor, Wilkinson believes players react differently to different people, thus no answer can be given as to whether coach-player relationship has a bearing on winning.

"You can point to successful coaches and find all types of people," he comments. "For instance, in the football field, Vince Lombardi was a dictator. He ruled with an iron hand, demanded excellence and he got it. He was an extremely successful coach."

"At the same time there's George Allen of the Washington Redskins who has been almost as successful. He has done a heck of a job, has always been a winner, yet he's just the opposite of the Lombardi-type coach."

"I think the first thing you have to do as coach is to just be yourself and get along with the players," he speculated.

Assisting Wilkinson at the various cage levels are Jayvee coach Steve Brown, sophomore coach Dick Harmon and freshman coach Gene Baker.

If the head mentor does not have enough problems, he also faces a very tough season. Fourteen of the squad's 18 regular season games are Southwestern Conference competition.

"Our non-conference games also are very tough,"

3 earn offices in Off-Road Club

Three Granite City residents were elected to offices this month in the newly formed Mississippi Valley Off-Roaders Club, a non-profit organization with headquarters in Edwardsville.

Gary Davis was elected first vice-president, Steve Stamps was appointed sergeant-at-arms and Mrs. Ann Davis as parliamentarian.

Mrs. Davis told the Press-Record, "This is a family activity club with open membership to anyone interested in dune buggies and four-wheel drive vehicles for recreational purposes."

Future plans of the club include men's and women's racing events this coming season at Tri-City Speedway, timed obstacle events and drag races for all classes of off-the-road vehicles.

The next monthly meeting will be Friday, Dec. 7, at Temple's Restaurant, 1535 Johnson Road, with a smorgasbord dinner at 6:30 p.m. The meeting will follow at 7:30 p.m.

Additional information is available from Mrs. Davis at 931-5016.

Official predicts SIUE edge against SLU kickers

Pat Smith, veteran soccer official from Dayton, Ohio, put it neatly Saturday after Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and St. Louis University had advanced to the finals of the Midwest NCAA Division I (major schools) Soccer Tournament to be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Cougar Field.

Said Smith, "When the Cougars and Bills clash for the right to represent the region at the national championship finals Jan. 24 at Miami in the Orange Bowl it should be some kind of soccer game...in fact, I'm predicting the score will be the same as when the two schools played their regular game at Busch Stadium Nov. 9—a 1-0 decision—but the problem is, which one will score the one goal?"

Smith has to be considered somewhat of an expert on the question since he worked the Busch Stadium clash between SLU and SIUE and Saturday's first game in which the Bills erupted in the second half to demolish the very good Bowling Green State University of Ohio team, 6-0.

He also had viewed the Cougars' attack, which forced the Huskies of Northern Illinois University to commit two fouls and give SIUE a pair of direct penalty kicks, the beginning of a 3-0 victory over the visitors from DeKalb.

"I think that SIUE has a slight edge, if only that mathematically the Bills can't one would think, keep on doing the odds," Smith said.

In seven meetings, the Bills have won six times and the Cougars managed a 1-1 tie in the 1972 season.

In Saturday's action, which was played on the JV field due to heavy rains, both SLU and SIUE were held scoreless for the first half. Then the Bills exploded for three goals in 10 minutes against Bowling Green. In the Cougar's victory over Northern, it was the same type of script.

Northern, behind the sensational goaltending of its sophomore ace, Pete Mannos, held off the Cougars the first half as he made an amazing 15 of his game total of 24 saves.

But, with SIUE applying a terrific pressure on the Huskies' goal in the second half, the Northern defenders got desperate and started committing infractions within the penalty area.

At 22 minutes into the second half, a Northern defenseman fouled Paul Gentile and SIUE's top scorer, John Stremela, took the direct penalty kick, which barely went in the lower left hand corner. Three minutes later, Mark Moran hit Stremela with a cross pass and John scored his 12th goal of the season, the team's high.

Five minutes later, with most subs in, Pat Horne, a reserve, was fouled and he made good the direct penalty kick.

The Cougars so dominated the play that Northern was able to get off only seven shots on goal the entire game, five the first 45 minutes and two the second half. In fact, SIUE's defensive lineup of goalie Chester Stremela, Gene Mihalow, Bill Renaud, Steve Elliott, Tom Galati and Mark Moran was almost airtight.

In the second half, for example, they didn't permit a shot-on-goal for the Huskies until 27 minutes had ticked off. In the important corner kick category, the Cougars had a 7-10 advantage.

In regular season play SIUE and Northern Illinois played in the Illinois Universities Soccer Tournament at Charleston and the Cougars won 1-0. That game, too, was played on a soggy and muddy field and Saturday's contest looked like history was going to repeat itself. Northern finished with a 7-2 record, SIUE is now 11-1-1; St. Louis University stands at 10-1-3; and Bowling Green dropped to 10-2-0.

Tickets for the Dec. 9 titanic struggle between the Bills and Cougars are on sale at both schools' athletic department offices. No more than 8,000 tickets will be sold, it was announced. SIUE fans may call 618-692-3986 for ticket information.

Kristoff demands 'hustle' from his SIUE grapplers

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wrestling coach Larry Kristoff is a hard man to please. Although nine of his 11 wrestlers placed in SIUE's season opener, the prestigious Southern Invitational held Friday and Saturday in Chattanooga, Tenn., Kristoff wasn't exactly overjoyed against Bowling Green.

"I was disappointed in our performance," Kristoff frankly admitted. "I would have been pleased if we had looked sharp and had hustled, but we didn't."

Two Cougar grapplers who did meet Kristoff's expectations were heavyweight Barry Walsh, a senior from Detroit, Mich., and freshman Jerry Savagnago of South Holland, Ill., who competed in the 220-pound weight class.

Washington finished third after losing to a two-time collegiate champion while Walsh placed second. Six places were awarded in each weight class, which saw some 350 individuals compete from schools and athletic clubs across the nation. No team standings were kept.

Other SIUE wrestlers who placed in the tournament were: junior Mike Taylor, a St. Louis native, second in the 150 pound class; junior Larry Pruitt, St. Louis, fourth among 134 pound wrestlers; senior Doug Lee, Fort Smith, fourth in 118; senior Jerry Irvine, Fort Dodge, Iowa, fifth in 158; sophomore Greg Tuck, St. Louis, fifth in 142; senior Tom Trachsel, Grand Lodge, Mich., sixth in 167; and sophomore Frank Savagnago, a Carol Stream, Ill., third in 190.

Savagnago also captured the tournament's most falls trophy. Savagnago topped all grapplers in the affair with a total of three falls.

The Cougars, who figure to be strong contenders for a national team title when the NCAA tournament gets under way next March, will return to action in the Illinois Invitational at Champaign, Saturday.

Survey data to dictate future of education

By MARY LOU MANNING
Springfield — The Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction recently took a picture of itself. Now that the snapshot is developed, the OSPI is standing back and looking at what it shows . . . the good and the bad.

This process is being done through Project A. I. M. — the Agency: Its Mission. Through a survey of each section manager, the current and future activities and missions of OSPI as well as recommendations for decision-making procedures can support the future directions of education in Illinois.

"The 1972-73 school year was used for the snapshot period," according to Tom Olsen, assistant superintendent of planning and development. "We asked each section manager to list the clients his section serves, how they are served and how staff effort was spread to serve them."

The survey began in May with collection of data started in September, following the end of fiscal year 1973. At present, the results are being distributed to the department leaders.

"The results of the information will be very important in terms of budget planning," explained Olsen. "We are in the process of going around to the four divisions to give them their department summaries for planning the fiscal year '79 budget. It will help the manager be more introspective."

The survey results will also aid the divisions in planning for future activities to meet the OSPI mission statement. For example, the amount of time spent on training or research may be deemed insufficient after a thorough investigation of services rendered.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Michael Bakalis receives the credit for the program. "It was Supt. Bakalis' idea for planning the state's educational future," said James Wilson, administrator of Internal Operations. "It will identify gaps in terms of types of clients served and functions."

"Dr. Bakalis is willing to risk the unpleasantness with the pleasantness."

Honorary award to Dempsey

C. A. "Jack" Dempsey, 4054 Vesel Ave. was invested with the Honorary Legion of Honor with seven other persons from southern Illinois in a public ceremony this week at the Belleville Masonic Temple.

In addition to Dempsey, three other Master Masons received the Honorary Legion of Honor, and four Senior DeMolays were conferred with the active Legion of Honor.

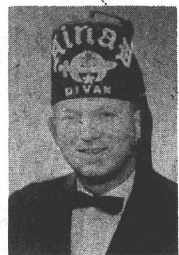

The Honorary Legion of Honor is conferred upon a Master Mason who has performed unusual meritorious service on behalf of DeMolay. The regalia is a white cord with a regular Legion of Honor medalion suspended from it. The Active Legion of Honor is conferred upon a Senior DeMolay for recognition of or participation in a promising career in some field of worthwhile endeavor that serves God, Country or humanity.

An Advisory Council member of the James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, he chaired the committee which brought Astronaut C. Gordon Fullerton, USAF major to the community in saluting "Future of Space in America" last April.

He is vice-president of Granite City Glass Co. and Granite City Fence Co. and is president of Dempsey-Adams Auto Body.

Other Honorary Legion of Honor members from the Quad City area are: C. E. Townsend, Fred Riddle, Claude Echols, Charles C. Chapman, Dr. Amos Rode, Donald W. Parney and E. Gene Ross. John Michels was awarded the honor posthumously.

Active Legion of Honor members from the local chapter are: William J. Mehl, George Slattery, Raymond Henley, Gilbert Watson, Charles A. Meyer, Randall Robertson, Thomas Studebaker, David John, John Belkoff, William H. Buente,

Bank doll contest open

One hundred and two Christmas dolls, wearing original costumes designed and sewn by area women, will make up a lobby-full of dolls which are now on display at the Granite City Trust and Savings bank.

The dolls have all been entered by customers in Granite City Trust's sixth annual Christmas Dress-A-Doll contest. The bank furnishes all of the dolls and the prizes, while individual contestants donate their time and skill to design and sew attractive costumes for the dolls.

Designed as Christmas gifts for needy youngsters—either at home, or in schools, hospitals or other institutions—the dolls will remain on display in the bank lobby until Dec. 14th. They then will be turned over to local civic and charitable organizations to be distributed as special Christmas gifts for less fortunate youngsters.

Winning designs in the Dress-A-Doll contest include a grand prize winner and separate first place prizes awarded to winners in each of six different design categories. Because of these separate design categories, the dolls are individually dressed in a variety of colorful outfits including storybook characters, fancy dress clothing, old world costumes, sensible dress, and many others.

There is a separate Dress-A-Doll category for children under 15 years of age only.

Elks memorial service

Ivan J. Pomeroy, exalted ruler of Granite City Lodge 1063 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, announced today that the local Elks Lodge will hold a memorial service at 3 p.m., Sunday, at the Elks Lodge, 1329 Niedringhaus Ave.

Pomeroy said that the memorial service is mandatory by statute of the Grand Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and is held on the first Sunday in December in each of the more than 2100 Elks Lodges throughout the United States.

The service is held each year, he said, to honor all deceased Elks and especially those who have died in the past year.

Don Watson, esteemed leading knight and program chairman for the memorial service, said the service will be conducted by the officers of the lodge with Father John O'Connell of St. Marks Catholic Church in Venice as guest speaker. Music will be provided by the choir of the Granite City High School with Mrs. Mary Bright as director. The public is invited.

Eisel new head of waterway division

Leo Martin Eisel, an expert in the fields of hydrology and engineering, has been named director of the Division of Waterways for the Illinois Department of Transportation, it was announced Monday.

Illinois Transportation Secretary Langhorne Bond announced the appointment of Eisel to the post effective Dec. 1. Eisel will receive $32,000 annually.

Prior to accepting the state post, Eisel was a staff scientist for the Environmental Defense Fund (EDF) which is headquartered in New York. At EDF, Eisel was involved in environmental lawsuits on water resources and their relation to land use and energy problems.

Eisel, 31, holds a doctorate in engineering with minors in economics and government. He received his Ph.D. degree from Harvard. Eisel received a master's degree in hydrology from the University of Canterbury in New Zealand where his studies focused on water resources and land use management.

In addition, Eisel served as a research associate to Harvard University's Development Advisory Service and as a consultant to the U.S. State Department on land use and water problems. As an advisor to the State Department, he worked on the "Green Revolution" project in Pakistan which was designed to increase food production in that country.

Eisel succeeds John C. Guillon who resigned as director of the Division of Waterways Sept. 13, 1973.

LAMPLIGHTER AWARDS, red kerosene lanterns, were presented to three local Scout leaders for their efforts in organizing new Scout units in the Quad-City area during the year. From left to right are W. F. "Mick" Strange who was instrumental in the organization of Post 10-33, sponsored by the Granite City Police Department; G. H. Sternberg, Post 120, a construction post; and Mrs. Pat Foote who received two lanterns for organizing Pack 121 at Wilson School and Pack 93 in Eagle Park. Robert Simon, right, council organization and extension chairman, made the presentation at the Cahokia Mound Council annual business meeting Monday evening. (Press-Record Photo)

Raze homes for new building

Ten homes in the 2000 block of Lee Avenue are being demolished to make way for possible construction of a new Granite City Steel Federal Credit Union building.

Permits for razing the houses have been issued by Granite City. Demolition work is under way.

Lee Avenue addresses of the houses being destroyed are 2001, 2001 rear, 2003, 2005, 2007, 2009, 2011, 2013, 2015 and 2017. Total cost of the demolition was estimated at $6,000.

Plans for the new credit union have not been completed and will be made public when taken before the Granite City Plan Commission. No date for the presentation has been made. It is believed rezoning will be necessary before the new building can be constructed.

The city also granted permits to Archer Daniel Midland Co. (ADM Grain) to construct two buildings at its soybean processing plant site on Carlgill Road. The buildings will be a $5,500 structure housing fire pumps and a $3,000 shed for fire equipment.

First Granite City National Bank, 20th Street and Edison Avenue, was granted a permit for new $146,000 drive-in banking facilities at 1921 23 State Street. A razing permit also was granted for the building on that location.

The building already has been demolished. The cost of demolition was $3,000. L. Wolf Construction Co. is contractor for the new drive-in facilities.

A razing permit also was granted to Kenneth Whaling to demolish the old bowling alley at 2803 Edwardsville Road. No cost was listed.

Compromise to expedite state freeway system

Planning and construction of the Downstate Supplemental Freeway System will be greatly accelerated as a result of the Regional Transit Authority (RTA) compromise agreement reached over the weekend by Governor Walker and legislative leaders of both parties.

Democratic Leader James H. Douglas of Breese said this week.

"One of the main points agreed upon," explained Douglas, "is that the RTA compromise legislation will authorize an increase from $600 million to $800 million in transportation bond funds for completion of the Supplemental Freeway System throughout Downstate Illinois."

"In plain language, this means that downstate will get $200 million more than had originally been allocated this year for roadbuilding. I am delighted that downstate transportation needs were not ignored by my leadership colleagues in the General Assembly."

"Planning and work on freeways in southern and southwestern Illinois will be stepped up considerably as a direct outcome of the long hours of debate and 'give-and-take' that we participated in during the last few days."

"It is still too early to translate into an exact timetable what the compromise agreement will mean for specific freeways in our part of the state."

But it certainly is safe to say that, had the accord not been reached, the completion dates would have been delayed and pushed much farther into the future.

"I was also pleased with the agreement because it provides that taxpayers in this six-county RTA system—not downstate like us who are outside the system—will pay for their own mass transportation."

"According to the agreement, the funds to establish and operate the RTA will come from various taxes and fees paid by the residents who will actually benefit from the system. This includes a portion of the sales tax they pay, part of the money they pay for auto license plates, a motor fuel sales tax on those residents, a parking tax and money contributed by Chicago and Cook County."

"This amounts to $171 million in annual financing—all of it to be paid by citizens of those six counties. Although the mechanics provide that the amount of the money will come from the state's general revenue fund, this is equal to the tax revenue coming from the six counties involved in the RTA."

"I am happy to support this bipartisan legislation not only because it provides $200 million in additional roadbuilding funds for Downstate, but also because it doesn't put the bite on the downstate taxpayers for projects directly beneficial only to the Metropolitan Chicago area."

Joseph Klug Sr., 65, dies

Joseph Klug Sr., 65, of 8120 West Jefferson St., Detroit, Mich., a former resident of the Quad-Cities, died at 6:30 p.m. Monday in a Detroit Hospital where he had been a patient one day.

Mr. Klug was born in Nimeski and resided in this area until he moved to Detroit approximately 20 years ago. While living here he was a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

He owned and operated a garage and service station in Detroit prior to his retirement. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Anna Klug; one son, Joseph Klug Jr.; and a daughter, Ronald Kosloff, both of Detroit; four brothers, George and Emil Klug, both of Granite City, Jacob and Charles Klug, both of East Alton; three sisters, Mrs. Anna Buehrer of Granite City, Mrs. Frances Allen of Roxana and Mrs. Sophia East of Mount Olive, Ill., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in Detroit.

"Indian Day" was held at Central Baptist Church this week. Those riding Central's two buses to Sunday School were designated tribes. The drivers of the two buses were dressed in authentic costumes (many motorists were startled by "real live Indians" driving through the community). The tribe with the most riders gave a "victory yell" around the other bus following services.

Sally Steele, Max Steele and Prieta Collins of Sullivan, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. John Blocker of Whiteheath, Ill., Cecil Currence of Indianapolis, Ind., Wylie Brooks and son Homer Brooks, and his son Charles Brooks, of Martinsville, Ind., a niece and her husband Mr. and Mrs. Noel Hyde of St. Louis, were out-of-town relatives here to attend the funeral of Charles Brooks.

Mrs. Betsy Gorrell has returned from Charleston, Ill., where she spent the holidays with her daughter and son in law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Sparks.

Mrs. Leona Pyles is a patient at the local hospital with pneumonia and other complications.

The Rev. and Mrs. Jerry Hart and family spent the holidays in Dexter, Mo., with their parents and friends.

Holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dickerson and family of 4010 Central lane were Mr. and Mrs. Virgie Collins and daughter, and Mrs. Dickerson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Havis of Arnold, Mo. In the evening they visited a friend of the family, Mrs. Shirley Dinkins and her family of Pacific, Mo.

Youth of the Cedar View General Baptist Church met for practice on the Christmas program, and later were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Dickerson for refreshments. Those participating were Pam Evans, Allison Bell, Dean Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Asbeck and daughter Angel, Perry Hart, Terri and Tim Dickerson and JoAnn Potter.

A black choir of 15 people from The Church of the Living God of East St. Louis, under the direction of Elton Horace, were guest singers at the Pontoon Church of Christ, this week.

Jerry Ross, Bill Morris, Elroy Paschedag, Frank Honchak and the Rev. Lowry Sutherland attended a men's meeting at the St. Louis Christian College Monday evening. The guest speaker was Max Hickerson. A social period followed with a ham and bean supper.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., Nov. 29, 1973 Page 15

MR. AND MRS. JAMES DITTMAN, whose wedding took place at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison. She is the former Miss Janice O'Bear, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond O'Bear, 2010 Thirteenth St. (Gravemann Photography)

Janice O'Bear becomes Mrs. James J. Dittman

Miss Janice Maureen O'Bear and James Joseph Dittman were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at 1 p.m. Nov. 10 at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison. The Rev. Sylvester Micek officiated.

Altar bouquets were arrangements of white mums and white pom poms and the pews were marked with sprigs of white mums, pom poms and greenery.

Miss Pat Beljanski sang "The Wedding Song," "Theme from Love Story," "A Time For Us," "Panis Angelicus" and The Lord's Prayer.

The organist, Miss Karen Koliste, also played Hawaiian Wedding March, "We've Only Just Begun," "On Top of the World," "Theme from Romeo and Juliet," "I Lift Up My Eyes" and "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond O'Bear, 2010 Thirteenth St. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dittman, reside at 1729 Rhodes St.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss O'Bear selected a white satin gown. The molded bodice of English Nottingham lace had a high neckline and tiny covered buttons accenting the front.

The long full sleeves were capped at the shoulder with lace. Lace formed the tightly fitted cuffs and bands of lace enhanced the semi-straight skirt at the hemline.

She wore a lace halo headpiece to secure her cathedral length veil, bordered in matching lace, and she held a colonial bouquet of white roses, lilac, stephanotis and baby breath.

Maid of honor, Miss Pam Economy, and bridesmaids, Miss Sharon O'Bear, a sister of the bride, Miss Karen Robertson, Miss Carolyn Mihu, both cousins of the bride, Miss Susan Stern and Miss Mary McQuay, were identical gowns made in a combination of royal blue velvet and pale blue chiffon.

The brides were trimmed around the square neckline with light blue Schiffli silk embroidery and the long full sleeves were cuffed in velvet and stiched with the embroidery trim. The long chiffon skirts terminated at the hem in a deep ruffled flounce. Each attendant wore a matching picture hat and carried a plateau basket of blue carnations, white crystal pom poms and baby breath.

Rebecca Armour was groomed as a miniature bride in a white lace Empire style frock designed with an oval collar and a pastel blue velvet ribbon at the Empire Waist. Her lace headpiece was adorned with tiny pearls, satin bows and long streamers and she held a miniature bridal bouquet.

She was escorted by Timothy Mihu, a cousin of the bride.

The groom chose Mike Deffoes as his best man. Mike Dittman, the groom's brother, Frank Papa, Bob Garland, Terry Stawar and Dave Puszersky were groomsmen. Seating the guests were Ray O'Bear, a brother of the bride, and Bob Dittman, the groom's brother.

The mother of the bride was attired in an apricot chiffon gown made with a V-neckline edged with Venice lace. Lace extended down the front of the Empire bodice and encircled the waistline and the full bishop sleeves ended at the wrists in lace cuffs.

The groom's mother appeared in an aqua peau de soie dress. The fitted bodice was lavishly accented with pearls and aqua bugle beads at the neck and natural waistline. Both mothers wore white cocktail orchids and their accessories matched their frocks.

A reception for 500 guests was held at the Croatian Hall, Madison, with Miss Paula Gushoff presiding over the guest book.

The rehearsal dinner was served to members of the wedding party at Charlie's Restaurant.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the bride also was graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is now a teacher at Russell D. Johnson Grade School.

Mr. Dittman is a graduate of Assumption High School, East St. Louis, and St. Louis University. He is an assistant chemist at American Steel Foundries.

Biblical plants is club topic

Mrs. Marilyn Deatherage presented a program on "Biblical Plants" at a meeting of the Thorngate Garden Club. She gave information and a history of plant life as described in the Bible, which lists 231 different species.

Members met in the home of Mrs. Wanda Kincaid, who used a Thanksgiving theme in the table decorations. A bouquet of autumn flowers centered the table and individual candles in the shape of pilgrims and turkeys were used as favors.

Mrs. Frances Polly gave the invocation and a Thanksgiving poem was read by Mrs. Deatherage preceding an afternoon luncheon.

In keeping with the program, those attending answered roll call by quoting a verse from the Bible containing the name of a plant or flower.

Park ID cards ready Saturday

Identification cards will be issued to residents of the Granite City Park District from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Saturday at the Wilson Park ice rink. Those seeking ID cards must reside within the park district boundaries and present proof of residency, such as a utility bill receipt or similar item, the time of issuance, Harold Brown, park superintendent, said today.

The plasticized cards, costing 75 cents per person, enable the bearers to take part in park district programs, including skating sessions, at reduced prices, Brown explained.

50 and 25-year members honored by Granite 650

Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, presented pins and accorded special honors to Mrs. Hilda Griffith, a 50-year member, and Mrs. Laura Purcell and Mrs. Viola Byrne, both with 25-year membership in the chapter, at a meeting during the weekend.

Mrs. Rachel Larsen, worthy matron and Walter Johnson, worthy patron, presided at the meeting and made the presentations.

An initiation ceremony also was held for a new member,

Mrs. Betty Schmedake. Those escorted and introduced were 15 grand chapter committee members and the chapter committee members who were given gifts in recognition of their work during the past year.

Memorial services also were held for members who died this year.

After the regular session refreshments were served in the dining room that was decorated in a Thanksgiving theme.

Chapter KU plans donations

Chapter KU, PEO Sisterhood, will donate money to the Illinois PEO Home, its International Peace Scholarship Fund and to Cotter College in lieu of members sending Christmas cards this season, according to plans made at Monday night's meeting.

Mrs. Jo Ann Kraus, 2535 Spalding Ave., was hostess to 20 members and one guest, Mrs. Suzanne Nasir.

Other highlights of the business meeting was plans for the chapter's suite party set for Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. Jean Maxwell and a review of the Chapter's eighth anniversary dinner party that was hosted by Mrs. Eunice Witter, earlier this month.

Mrs. Fay Carlisle, president, congratulated Mrs. Bess Coolidge on her guest-speaking appearances at other chapters to report on the supreme convention that was held in New Orleans.

JOSEPH VAUGHN

3 earn Chevalier degrees

Hiram B. Ables, David W. Ledbetter, and Joseph L. Vaughn were conferred with The Chevalier Degree by a Chevalier Degree team from Belleville at the Belleville Masonic Temple this week in a public ceremony.

The three Quad-City DeMolays were designated to receive the award by the International Supreme Council (order of DeMolay in its annual session at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, St. Louis, in July. The Degree of Chevalier is the highest honor an active DeMolay can receive. The degree is a citation for outstanding and marked DeMolay activity and labor. The regalia for the degree consists of a special yellow cord from which is suspended a gold medallion with a likeness of Jacques on it, and a gold ring which is worn on the third finger of the left hand. Each recipient also receives a patent and a membership card.

Ables, son of Shirley Ables, 2410 W. 20th St., a graduate of Granite City High School, is studying science and business administration at Washington University, St. Louis, and is a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity. He is a member of the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Ables, a Representative DeMolay, has a petition merit bar, is a past master counselor of James Stuart Chapter, a past illustrious knight commander of the Illini Priory of Knighthood, and portrayed Jacques DeMolay in the DeMolay Degree for a number of classes. Ledbetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Ledbetter, 3216 Harvard Place, is a 1973 graduate of Granite City High School and is a freshman at SIU at Edwardsville where he is majoring in business administration and minoring in music education.

He is a member of First Presbyterian Church and a pledge member of Phi Mu Alpha fraternity at SIU. Active in DeMolay athletics, he is a Representative DeMolay, has a Blue Honor Key for ten petitions, and is a past master counselor of James Stuart Chapter Order of DeMolay. He portrayed the master inquirer for DeMolay degrees for the chapter.

Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Vaughn, 1816 Third St., Madison, is a graduate of Madison High School and is employed by Fact Plus, St. Louis. He is a member of Presbyterian Church, Madison. He was active in The DeMolay degree, has a mem-

Graduates at computer school

Randy Graville, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Graville, 722 Washington Ave., has graduated in the top 15 per cent of his class at the Automation Machine Training Center located in Kansas City, Mo.

Graville graduated with skill ratings as follows: 95 per cent in programming, 92.7 per cent punch card utility programs, 98 per cent key punch programs, and 98 per cent computer concepts. A Certificate of Completion is awarded to students with an 80 per cent average or higher.

Graville graduated in May from Madison High School where he played football. He also was active in the Explorer Scout program.

He has been employed as a recreational assistant by the City of Madison for the last two years.

Howlett to simplify forms

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, has appointed a committee to spearhead an effort to simplify all forms and applications which emanate from his office.

"We plan to eliminate any unnecessary forms now being printed," Howlett said. "Then, we will review the ones we must use, cutting excessive wordage. We will eliminate all small print. We will do everything possible to make all forms and applications more readable."

Members appointed to the committee by Howlett include: Bruce Carlson, vice-president, Grant Jacoby Graphics, Chicago; C. Ray Evans, president, CRE Printing Consultants, Des Plaines; Robert Pifer, attorney, law firm of Pifer and D'Angelo, Chicago; Dr. Samuel Hollander, chairman of the board of Almer Coe, Chicago; Louis L. Lerner, publisher, Lerner Newspapers, Chicago; E. Gene Lewis, president, E. Gene Lewis Management Consultants, Glenview; Robert V. Moriarty, Ph.D., psychologist and counselor, Harper College, Palatine, and Dana Weithers, marketing specialist, Chicago.

Revival services at Graceland Baptist Church, 2033 Johnson Road, will hold revival services each night at 7:30, starting Sunday through Friday, Dec. 7, the Rev. Jack Smith, pastor, has announced.

Special singing will be featured at every service and the Rev. Aluis Wright, pastor of the Cathedral Baptist Church at Rockford, Ill., will be the evangelist, the local minister said.

FIRST KEYNOTE SCHOLAR—Dr. John S. Rendleman (left), president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, talks at a news conference with R. Buckminster Fuller, visiting professor at SIUE, who has been designated as the first Keynote Scholar by the University Seminar at Edwardsville. The seminar is a new forum for interdisciplinary study and discussion of serious problems facing society. Fuller, who is a philosopher, architect, engineer, poet, mathematician, futurist and revolutionary visionary, will speak at the first session of the seminar on Jan. 8 on the subject, "Shaping the Environment."

East Madison fire protection in jeopardy

The long-standing issue of who is to pay for fire protection for the East Madison area of Nameoki Township came to the surface again Monday night as Eugene Gargac, a Nameoki Township auditor and chairman of the township legislative committee, told the town board that the area again is in jeopardy of losing its fire service.

The area has been served by the Madison Volunteer Fire Department, although it is not in Madison. That has drawn criticism from Madison residents who say they are not properly protected while the fire trucks are in East Madison. East Madison formerly received the service without paying taxes for it, leading the Madison City Council to demand fees from East Madison residents the past few years.

Gargac said he has received information that some East Madison residents are not paying the fire protection fees, again leading to the possibility that Madison may discontinue service there.

The board voted to have township officials meet with Mayor Mike Saayk of Madison to see if an agreement can be reached, possibly with the township paying a portion of all of the fees required.

The town board heard a request from a representative of the State Park Street Lighting District for financial assistance. The request was referred to the township finance committee.

The board also heard a request that a portion of the revenue sharing funds already designated for fire plugs be used to pay the balance on an existing fire plug on Eduardo Drive. The fire plug was installed under a plan in which residents of the neighborhood pay on the indebtedness for the hydrant.

Louis Whitsell, township supervisor, showed the board a letter he has written to the Long Lake Fire Protection District asking them to consider the request.

The fire district is to determine what should be done with the $10,000 revenue sharing fire plug money while the town auditors will vote on all bills from the account.

Whitsell said plans and specifications for expansion and improvements to the town hall are nearly complete and should be ready to advertise for construction bids in the next few weeks.

The supervisor also read a letter from Frank Kirk, director of the Department of Local Government Affairs, informing him the Madison County portion of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District appears to have a higher assessed valuation than the St. Clair County portion but that majority representation on the levee board would depend on assessments just prior to the 1976 levee election.

The county with the higher assessed valuation has three members on the five member board. St. Clair County now holds the one member edge on the levee board. Whitsell had requested a study of the assessments of the two sides in hopes the board majority could be reversed immediately.

The auditors were informed that township employees are meeting with representatives of Local 98 of Building Service Employees and are considering joining the union. Albert Bell, highway commissioner, said he would have no objections to township employees joining the union if they wish.

An open letter was read from James Barton, Madison County supervisor of assessments, informing all township residents that changes may be made in assessment of their property for tax purposes but that they will receive forms notifying them of such changes. A request for a street light along Maryville Road was referred to the state highway

Trip to Britain for high school youths

An opportunity will be offered local high school students next spring to spend nine days in Britain at nominal cost as part of a spring vacation tour program.

Fred (Pat) Schuman, a sociology and history teacher at Granite City High School South, is arranging the tour and will accompany the student group. Interested students and their parents are being invited to take part in an orientation session at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 5 at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA when details of the program will be reviewed, Schuman said.

Scheduled to attend the meeting is Maria Bessette, a representative of the American Council for Nationalities Service, a national, non-profit organization which sponsors such tours to further international understanding and wider appreciation of the culture of other countries. Although a mandatory age limit has not been set for those eligible to travel with the group, Schuman recommends that prospective tourists be 15 years and older.

Preference will be given students in their junior and senior year at high school, he said. However, students wishing to join the tour will be registered on a first-come, first-serve basis, Schuman added. An attractive part of the nine-day tour is the low fee charged each participant, the GCHS faculty member said. Cost of the trip is $484, which includes roundtrip transportation by jet carrier from Chicago to Britain, all accommodations, three meals daily, except where indicated otherwise in the itinerary, and travel costs in Britain by deluxe motorcoach or rail with reserved seats or berths provided for overnight journeys, if necessary.

Virtually all expenses are covered in the $484 fee, Schuman said, such as hotels, restaurant meals, transportation, tips, taxes, entrance and show fees, even entertainment. Only pocket money and shopping expenses, if planned, will be required over the initial outlay, he added.

The tour group will depart from Chicago Airport on April 6 and return April 14. Upon arrival at Prestwick, Scotland, the tourists will drive through Lanarkshire County to Edinburgh, Scotland's historical capital and site of Edinburgh Castle.

Through the countryside of Sir Walter Scott to York, whose Great Minster spans 1335 years of history, and St. Mary's Abbey, will occupy the students on the third day, traveling on to the industrial city of Manchester.

At Chester, a medieval walled city founded by the Romans in the 1st century A.D., which borders England and Wales, the Student tourists will find terraced shops filled with antiques and couturier fashions overlooking busy streets and a chance to walk along the top of the city's 1900-year-old walls.

Traveling southward the group will visit Shrewsbury and Warminster enroute to Stratford-On-Avon, the birthplace of William Shakespeare and location of Ann Hathaway's Cottage and Trinity Church, plus a side excursion to Coventry.

A tour of Oxford University colleges will precede the group's arrival in London and a full sightseeing trip to Westminster Abbey, Tower of London, Marble Arch, Fleet Street, London Bridge, Piccadilly, St. Paul's Cathedral and Buckingham Palace.

the changing of the guard" ritual will be observed.

Remaining in the London area, the students will enjoy an excursion to Windsor Castle and a full sightseeing trip to Westminster Abbey, Tower of London, Marble Arch, Fleet Street, London Bridge, Piccadilly, St. Paul's Cathedral and Buckingham Palace.

A visit to Hampton Court, residence of Henry VIII, just a short distance from London on the banks of the River Thames, will precede a leisurely stroll and shopping with a guided tour through Carnaby Street, the famous mod fashion center, Kings Road and Oxford Street. An evening theatre performance in London's West End will conclude the tour, Schuman said.

Complete details will be provided at Wednesday's orientation session, the teacher said. Additional information may be obtained by calling Schuman at 876-4619 (home) or 877-1512 (South High).

Rites in Cahokia for John Mowery

Rites were held at a Cahokia funeral home this morning for John W. Mowery Jr., 22 of Dupo, a brother of Granite City residents.

According to the St. Clair County sheriff's office, Mowery was found dead at Route One and Adams Road, East Carondelet, about 6:30 a.m. Monday.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mowery Sr.; four sisters, Mrs. Judy Taylor, Mrs. Darleen Harrigan, Mrs. Joan Shellingberger, all of Granite City, and Mrs. Connie Lynne of California, and a brother, Daniel Mowery of Granite City.

Price opposed to petroleum exports

Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) has received a large amount of mail in response to reports that the United States is continuing to export petroleum.

"I voted for a bill, recently passed by Congress, which will prohibit petroleum export in the future," said the Congressman. "If the American people are expected to make sacrifices, it makes no sense to allow oil companies to ship fuel out of the country."

In commenting on proposals for gasoline rationing and extra gasoline taxes, Cong. Price expressed concern over their possible effect on senior citizens and commuters.

"If rationing or a tax becomes necessary," he said, "I will work for a program which will minimize inconvenience to commuters, protect the elderly who live on fixed incomes, and generally result in equitable distribution of available fuel."

Mrs. Bertha Hagler, 80, dies

Mrs. Bertha Mae Hagler, 80, of 2404 Lincoln Ave., a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital for three days, died there at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Born in Murphysboro, Ill., she lived in Granite City 63 years. Mrs. Hagler was a member of the First Assembly of God Church.

She is survived by her husband, Lewis Hagler; one son, Lewis E. Hagler of Granite City; two brothers, Rolla and Roy Reeves, both of Granite City; one sister, Mrs. Odel (Nettie) Cagle of Exeter, Calif.; two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Junior Achievement in full production

Junior Achievement units of the Quad-City area will hold the last in a series of four open house programs tonight at the Junior Achievement business center at 3307 Wabash Ave.

Open house programs have been held nightly this week since Monday.

JA companies who will be at the center tonight include Lights Up, Japs II and TSI, all sponsored by American Steel Foundries. The public may visit the center between 7 and 9 p.m. today.

Other units participating in open house programs earlier this week, and presidents of the companies, included: Monday—Quad-City Ceramics, Chris Holloway, president; CIFCO, Diane James and JACO, Alan Woodard, all sponsored by A. O. Smith Corp.

Tuesday—Flo-Co., Dave Young; Belco, Lois Remus, both sponsored by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.; Hilde-Side, Jimmie Wells, and Babco, both sponsored by the Illinois Power Co.

Wednesday—B. Q. Smokers, George Winterberg; Arco, Gary Keel; Rookys, Linda Lickenbrock, and Glasco, Dan Heath, all sponsored by the Granite City Steel Co.

The Junior Achievement bank, a separate unit, is on hand each night because it handles the accounts of all the JA units. The units are offering their products for sale during this week's open house programs.

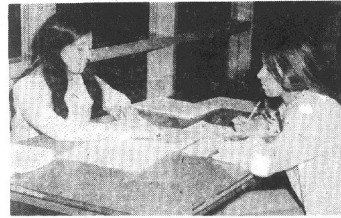

The local JA center had the top record of the Mississippi Valley District, and the district had the best JA record in the nation last year.

According to Kenneth Gatlung, center manager, the companies had gross sales of over $2,000 since Oct. 1.

The various Junior Achievement companies are formed every October, elect officers, select a product they think they can market and set up production.

The program lasts 30 weeks. The companies then close shop until the next school year.

COME TO OUR CEILING CLINIC
SAT. DEC. 1st
HOURS: 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Factory Representatives will be here To Answer All Your Questions.
We're having a ceiling clinic to introduce a new, easier way to install Chandelier Ceilings—using the Integrid system by Armstrong. You are invited to come, without any obligation to buy, and see a demonstration, showing step by step how to do it. Suspended below obstructions or tight to your old ceiling, Integrid solves all your ceiling problems beautifully, because you can't see its metal grid. And since the big 1' X 4' Chandelier tiles have no beams, seams virtually disappear, creating a continuous wall-to-wall pattern.

Willow Walk cats win

Mrs. David Taylor of the Willow Walk Cattery, 148 Central Ave., Milwaukee, and Mrs. Jerry Cox, 4016 Rode Ave., attended the 32nd annual "Greater St. Louis Cat Show" during the weekend held at Schuler's Colonial Room in Ferguson, Mo.

Entries this year were limited to 200 cats in the pedigreed class and about 25 cats in the household pet division. Judges invited to evaluate the entries traveled here from Houston, Tex., Bedford, N. Y., San Francisco, Calif. and Clarkson, Ontario, Canada.

Cats shown by Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Cox captured high honors in the show, which was televised over the NBC and CBS networks.

In the championship class, Willow Walk Willie Boy, a cream Persian male, won first and "best of color" in all four show rings. A littermate, Willow Walk Wilma Deane, a blue-cream female, placed second in all four rings. Willow Walk Fleur, a seal point Siamese female, scored first and "best of color" in two show rings and second in the remaining two rings. Natasha Feah, a lilac point Siamese female, placed second in the four rings.

MRS. RYAN HOSTS BUTTERFLY CLUB
Mrs. Catherine Hommert was honored on her birthday at a meeting Tuesday night of the Butterfly Club held in the home of Mrs. Edith Ryan, 2566 Iowa St.

Those winning prizes at games were Mrs. Lorraine McVoy, Mrs. Hommert, Mrs. Harriet Hoff and Mrs. Rene Willis.

A holiday buffet was served by the hostess to those named, and to Mesdames Juanita Rosenberg, Thelma Schmitt and Mary Lou Clausen.

Mrs. Rosenberg will entertain the club at a holiday party on Nov. 15, 1974. Cuba and the United States agreed to negotiate on means to curb airliner hijackings.

cats win

In the premier class, Willow Walk Wolfgang Amadeus, a chocolate point Siamese neuter, won first place and "best of color" in three rings and second and "best of color" runnerup in the fourth judging area.

In the final competition, Wolfgang Amadeus won "best premier" of both long and short haired premier animals and received a rosette award in the all breed show.

The same animal placed second in "best premier" and "best cat" in the premier class, winning two rosettes and a trophy in the short hair specialty division, sponsored by the Gilt Edge Burmese fanciers organization.

Willow Walk Pretzel, a brown tabby Persian neuter, owned by Mrs. Cox, won first and "best of color" honors in the novice class in all four shows.

Callie, a tortoiseshell spotted short hair domestic, which was adopted from the Quad City Association for Protection of the Animals Shelter, placed first and "best of color" in the household pet class.

Willow Walk Catwissa, a blue-cream Persian female, bred at the local cattery and owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hodgson of Ballwin, Mo., placed first and "best of color" in the kitten category, Mrs. Taylor said.

Party honors bride-elect

Miss Sharon Gasparovic was guest of honor at a personal bridal shower this week given by Misses Karen and Diane Hanks, sisters of the prospective bridegroom, at their home, 2025 Manley Ave. The hostesses, who will serve as bridesmaids, were assisted in arranging the event by Mrs. Don Hanks, mother of the bride.

Miss Gasparovic will be married Saturday to Mark Hanks at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Those present were Miss Claudia Gasparovic and Mrs. Joy Laimore, sisters of the honoree, Miss Linda Thomas, another bridesmaid, and Mrs. Joyce Gasparovic, mother of the bride-to-be.

Party arranged by Theta Theta

Plans for a Dec. 19 Christmas party at the Crest House in St. Louis were discussed by the Theta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority at its meeting Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Judy Russell, 3169 Carlson Ave. Mrs. Sharon Rose, president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Mary Jane Wyszal was elected recording secretary, replacing Mrs. Sherry Best who is leaving the city. Mrs. Julie Gates gave a report on the sorority city Council meeting. Dessert was served to Mrs. Barb Dickerson, Mrs. Ellen Cain, Mrs. Mary Alice Baker, Mrs. Pat Howard, Mrs. Linda Pickett, Mrs. Cookie Spangler and the others mentioned.

The next meeting at the home of Mrs. Donna Spankile, 1520 Joy Ave., will be a guest night, it was announced. An auction of handmade items will be held for the members and guests.

Newcomers donate to Alton orphanage

William Lafferty of Hudson's Jewelry Store was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Newcomers Club at Tri-Mor Bowl. His subject was diamonds and pearls.

After the program Mrs. Barbara Maycock, president, opened the business session and discussed the annual Christmas party which will be held Dec. 17 at a St. Louis restaurant.

An election of officers was held with Mrs. Louise Ware named as president; Mrs. Dody Stevens, vice-president; Mrs. Belinda Johnson, secretary, and Mrs. Sherri Druce, treasurer. Tentative plans were made for the installation in January.

Members discussed the ticket sales profit from its fashion show held in September and agreed to donate the money to the Alton orphanage.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock in the evening by the Rev. Donald Sabbert, pastor, and the Rev. William Smith of Jerseyville, Ill., a brother-in-law of the bride.

Golden Agers elect officers

The Senior Citizens Golden Age Circle of Kirkpatrick Homes elected new officers at a meeting on Tuesday held at the Recreation Center and attended by 27 members.

Mrs. Ruby Corbitt was re-elected to the office of president and other officers include: Mrs. Caroline Luc, vice-president; Edgar Paddock, secretary; Mrs. Peggy Gibbons, treasurer, and Helen King, corresponding secretary.

The president reported she and a committee of six senior citizens attended a meeting in Highland to discuss the use of funds to be available to the organizations for specific projects, such as the purchase of a bus or to construct a building for meetings.

Also announced was the showing of a motion picture entitled "Behind The Iron Curtain" at 7 p.m. Friday at the Anchorage Recreation Center.

Plans were discussed for a pot luck Christmas dinner on Dec. 11 when David Morgan, executive director of the Granite City Housing Authority will give information on a 24-hour prescription service for senior citizens.

Each person who attends the dinner is requested to bring canned foods to be used for baskets for needy families during the holidays.

Other reports given during the meeting were by Mrs. Nancy Harrell, Mrs. Corbitt and Mrs. Mae Finley, who announced five get well cards had been sent to members.

Mrs. Corbitt also announced that all senior citizens will be offered free banking services after Jan. 1 and anyone who receives less than $120 a month retirement benefits should contact the local social security office.

Those winning prizes in games following the business session were Mrs. Finley and Robert Harrell.

Prepare for Christmas season

"You Can Know God!" will be this Sunday's theme of Pastor Don F. Pierson as the Namoeki Presbyterian Church prepares for the Christmas season.

This will be followed by the faith-building message "Link Your Life With Love" on Dec. 9, "God's Light For Our Blackouts" will be given at the morning worship hour on Dec. 16, and that evening the Graham film of the Holy Land.

Nancy Hanks is shower honoree

Miss Nancy Hanks, a December bride-elect, was the guest of honor at a personal bridal shower Tuesday evening given by her bridesmaids, Miss Kathy Kimutis and Miss Dawne Zerkow, the latter's home, 2722 Michigan Ave.

The buffet table was centered with an antique punchbowl and matching candle holders with lighted tapers and a miniature bride doll.

Guests attending were Kim St. Ivany, Gala Hampton, Janice St. Ivany, Cindy Bailey, Lucia Seudecamp, Bonnie White, Mary Ruth Springer, Martha Edmonds, Carol Rolke, Mrs. Martha St. Ivany, mother of the prospective bridegroom and Mrs. Lela Hanks, mother of the guest of honor.

KATHLEEN GILLEY IS JUNIOR BRIDESMAID

Miss Kathleen Gilley served as a junior bridesmaid in her sister's wedding at Hope Lutheran Church when the former Miss Colleen Ann Gilley became the bride of Rodney Craig Ozark.

She wore a red velvet gown made in a semi-empire style with long sleeves. White lace trimmed the neckline, front bodice and marked the high rise waist.

CONFEDERATION ARTICLES

On Nov. 15, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted the Articles of Confederation, uniting the states.

Yule workshop at Namoeki church

"Christmas Workshop" with the decorating of the Nativity scene, the singing of carols and the making of Christmas wreaths will mark the beginning of a series of Family Adrenal Fellowship Hours at the Namoeki Presbyterian Church.

The events will begin at 7 p.m. Sunday. On the following Sunday evening, the congregation will share their family Christmas customs and Pastor Don F. Pierson will show slides of the Holy Land.

A color film spectacular of the Billy Graham Associates' "His Land" will be seen on Sunday, Dec. 16. The Family Adrenal Fellowship series will end on Thursday, Dec. 23 with the annual Christmas program produced by Pamela Gargich and Beverly Scroggins using the senior choir, children of the Sunday School and youth groups.

Various groups of the church will provide the refreshments following the programs. The public has been invited to share in the informal get-acquainted fellowship opportunities anticipating the Christmas season.

Yule music at Johnson School

A program of Christmas music will be presented by students of Russell D. Johnson Grade School, under the direction of Carole Humphrey, at the school's PTA meeting Dec. 18.

An executive board session for PTA officers will take place at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, and plans were announced for an Area Council meeting on Friday night.

Other events taking place at the school this month included a coffee klatch for parents held from 10 to 10:45 a.m. Nov. 20, a candy sales award assembly on Nov. 21.

Top salesmen were Eddie Johnson, who received a bicycle as a prize. Twenty-eight other students were presented awards in different categories of the contest.

Profits from the candy sale will be used toward class field trips, playground equipment and audio-visual equipment at the school.

3 at session on manpower

Dan Churovich of the Emergency Employment Office and James Heil and Louis Whitsell, County Board members of Madison County, attended a conference on planning for manpower programs at Key Biscayne, Fla., returning during the weekend.

More than 500 county officials and manpower specialists from throughout the U.S. attended the conference to prepare for an expanding county role in manpower services.

Many can seek state refunds

The Illinois Department of Revenue has over $400,000 in unclaimed 1972 state refund checks that belong to thousands of taxpayers who cannot be located, Robert H. Alphin, state revenue director, announced Wednesday.

"If you haven't received your 1972 state income tax refund, it could be one of over 11,000 checks returned to the department by the post office as undeliverable," Alphin said.

"The main reason checks are returned as undeliverable is that taxpayers fail to notify the Department of Revenue of a change in their address when they move. He said undeliverable refund checks currently being held by the department are estimated at $37,000.

"If refund recipients are not found, their unclaimed refund checks are voided and the amount is credited to the taxpayer's 1973 account," Alphin said.

Taxpayers can claim their refunds by writing to the Illinois Department of Revenue, Undeliverable Refund Section, Processing Center, P.O. Box 3747, Springfield, Ill. 62768. The taxpayer must include his name, Social Security number and new address.

Man to undergo marrow transplant

A special fund has been set up at the Bank of Edwardsville to assist the family of 21-year-old Danny Snow of Edwardsville. Mrs. Ronald Rea of Granite City, a relative of Snow, told the Press-Record, "Danny has a rare blood disease and is being treated at Providence Hospital, Seattle, Wash., where he is to undergo bone marrow transplant. Mrs. Rea, an aunt said doctors spent the weekend taking blood tests of two other Snow children, Gary, 13, and Jeffrey, 18, to aid in Danny's treatment. His sister Tina, 15, will donate bone marrow for her brother.

"The family has no source of income," said Mrs. Rea, "other than what it receives from the state. That's why the special fund was set up to take donations."

Doctors report that the marrow transplant will take time to become effective. The family may have to remain in Seattle at least three months.

South matmen hoping for reruns from 1972

GCHS South's 1973-74 mat season is starting out very promising. The Warriors' 1972 season mat opener saw the local team defeat Jacksonville 37-18 and 1973-74 in a double dual meet at Jacksonville.

The Warriors won eight matches and lost four against Jacksonville, and won nine last two and had one draw against Normal.

The Warriors will attempt to repeat last year's victories against the same two northern teams when South opens its 1973 season at home Saturday at 1 p.m., but head coach William Schmitt, though optimistic about the season, said he expects a hard-fought season.

Phil Lapinski, last year's sectional and division champion in the 165-pound class, has a fractured bone in his right leg and may be lost for the season. Lapinski was to have been the Warriors' main contender in the 143-pound class.

GCHS North Mat Coach Walt Whitaker told the Press-Record last week, "I have accepted the challenge to give North a good wrestling program."

This weekend will give him his first chance to see how well the team has progressed.

Whitaker and the wrestling Stealers have perhaps the toughest season opener ever to face a new high school when they host Mundelein-Carmel tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. and then travel to Missouri for a 1 p.m. match with Hazelwood Saturday.

"Mundelein-Carmel is probably the finest team in the Chicago area," says Whitaker. "It had an almost undefeated season last year and was ranked among the top 10 in the state."

"Hazelwood is always tough," he commented, "it has about half of last year's squad back and has always dominated the North-St. Louis County Wrestling League."

Leading the team both days in the respective weight classes will be 165-pound junior Randy Hartline; Neil Pierson, a 100-pound junior who transferred from Iowa; senior Rudy Fry at 112; senior Bob Martin at 119; Phil Shands, a 126-pound senior; junior Terry Johnson at 135; 143-pound senior Chad Fetter, who wrestled last year at GCHS South; senior John Hankins at 146; junior Rick

North mat debut Friday

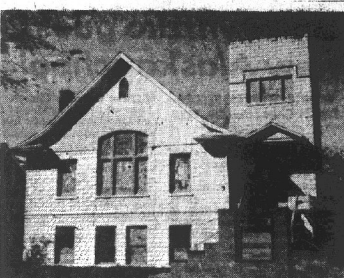

More at 1:55. Dave Hamilos, a 167-pound junior, Jim Barker a junior at 185, and another former Warrior matman senior John McMillan a senior.

"Terry Johnson, in the 132-pound class," says Whitaker, "will have his work cut out for him at Hazelwood. He'll more than likely face a former Granite City wrestler, either a who comes from a family with a wrestling background."

"Our boys will have to rise to the occasion and exhibit a great deal of what they are made of," Whitaker said.

OFFERED FOR SALE. The Central Free Methodist Church at 22nd and State streets, built in 1903, will be sold to finance construction of a new church in Pontoon Beach.

GC church to be sold

The congregation of the Central Free Methodist Church has decided to offer for sale its church building at 22nd and State streets.

The decision was made at a business meeting with the Central Christian Church in Pontoon Beach.

The historic atmosphere of the 22nd and State street structure has been guarded carefully by both owners. Since the church was built in 1903 still are in good condition. Hanging chandeliers, globes and fan with early form of variable lighting, surrounded by yellow stained windows, adds to the design of an earlier age.

The building is located on two lots of the original plat of Granite City in the midst of present activity, two blocks from the downtown area and St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Persons interested in acquiring the structure may call of the chairman of the board, Kermit Atkins at 931-0726, or Rev. Stenstrom at 977-5668 or 931-5777.

C. T. George dies at 60

Clarence Thomas George, 60, of 2322 Iowa St., ill for six weeks, died at 11:55 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He had been a patient at the hospital three days.

Born in St. Louis, he lived in Granite City 57 years. He was a custodian at the First United Presbyterian Church in Granite City prior to his retirement.

Mr. George was a member of the First Assembly of God Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Thelma George; two daughters, Mrs. Kenneth (Imogene) Jenkins of Overland, Mo., and Mrs. James (Melba) England of Granite City; a brother, the Rev. W. J. George of Kirkwood, Mo.; a sister, Mrs. Abbie Mayfield of Jeffersonville, Ind., and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

HUGLARY ON CENTER

Items worth $2,000 were stolen from the home of Warren Goble, 2613 Center St., after the front door was found open. It was reported at 1:10 a.m. Wednesday. Among the items taken were guns, a stereo and several rings.

H. C. Fletsam, 82, succumbs

Hugo C. Fletsam, 82, of New Athens, Ill., father of Mrs. Shirley Schiber of Granite City, died at 10:10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Belleville. He had been ill and in the hospital since Nov. 19.

Mr. Fletsam owned and operated the New Athens Cleaners before he retired.

He was a member of St. Agatha Roman Catholic Church and belonged to the Knights of Columbus, Fort Kaskaskia general assembly.

His wife, Mrs. Elsie Fletsam, died Aug. 12, 1967.

Other survivors include three sons, Kenneth Fletsam of Pacific, Mo.; Verlyn and Vernon Fletsam both of New Athens; another daughter, Mrs. Delores Heil of New Athens; one sister, Mrs. Pauline Erlinger of Granite City; eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Venice school vote Dec. 7

Venice voters may cast ballots between noon and 7 p.m. at two polling places in the Venice School District's election on Friday, Dec. 7, when approval will be sought to increase the educational tax rate 80 cents, raising the current maximum rate of $2.05 to $2.85.

Registered voters, 18 years and older, who have resided in the Venice School District a period of 28 days, may vote at the Venice Recreation Center, Third and Broadway, if their residence is within the Venice city limits.

Those living outside the Venice corporate boundaries may cast ballots at the Eagle Park Improvement Association building, 100 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres.

An estimated $931,149 in taxes, or $261,375 more than produced by the present rate, would result from the $2.85 levy, Leo Davitroy, Venice School Board president, said today.

County tax levy exceeds potential 1974 income

A $5,052,516 tax levy was adopted Wednesday by the Madison County Board, but that amount is not expected to be raised by taxes next year because of limits on rates for various county funds.

The new levy is $279,452 higher than last year's level of $4,773,064.

Among the funds where the levy exceeds the expected income is the general fund for which a $1,413,000 levy was approved, but maximum allowable rate of 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation is expected to generate only $860,000 from a county-wide assessed valuation estimated at $860 million.

Madison County Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer wanted the board at the meeting that the county is "going to have to live within actual revenue," and warned against spending more next year than is collected, even in funds where the budget exceeds the taxes collected.

The only change made by the board in the new levy was the deletion of a $57,377 levy for Civil Defense. Board members indicated CD has a sufficient balance on hand to operate the next year without additional funding.

The present tax rate for general purposes is 43.1 cents per $100 assessed valuation. County officials indicated the new rate could increase to as high as 47.35 cents but a rate of less than 45 cents is anticipated.

The board also approved a 1974 county budget of $11,000,246, up from $10,200,641 last year. The budget reflects a deficit of more than $500,000.

Dies while driving truck

James W. Surgeon, 67, of Hardin, Ill., died apparently of a heart attack while driving his pickup truck on Road 2, about two miles north of Interstate 270 at 11:20 a.m. Tuesday.

Witnesses said Mr. Surgeon slumped over the steering wheel of the truck, the vehicle swerved several times, left the roadway, traveled about 250 feet along the side of the road, went down the embankment and started back up the incline before it struck a tree and overturned, spilling bags containing 4,200 pounds of feed.

Deputy Coroner Edward Werner of Granite City at 11:30 a.m. Werner said an inquest into the cause of death would be held but that a heart attack is suspected.

Surgeon's body was taken to a Hardin funeral home where arrangements are pending.

County approves post for new assistant

The Madison County Board yesterday approved what Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City termed "a major step" in improving county government—the creation of a full-time post for an administrative assistant.

One of the primary responsibilities of the person chosen to fill the post will be finding new sources of income for the county, including state and federal grants. The board set the salary at $21,000 per year.

The board defeated a motion to reduce Hagnauer's auto mileage compensation from 15 cents per mile to 10 cents per mile. Hagnauer and other members of the Board of Review are permitted to claim mileage only while the Board of Review is in session. The other members of the board receive 10 cents per mile.

Two resolutions to assist in easing the energy crisis were approved, one limiting the maximum speed of all county vehicles to 50 miles-per-hour, and the other ordering that the thermostats in all county offices be reduced to 68 degrees.

Negotiable pact plan explained

An experimental negotiable agreement in the steel industry was explained to 200 members and associate members of the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers (AISE) in a meeting at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant in Alton Wednesday night by Lloyd McBride, director of District 34, United Steel Workers of America.

The new approach in negotiations is an attempt to work out a 1974 contract without a national strike in the industry.

The AISE is a technical organization of the steel industry and most of the local membership is from Laclede Steel Co. and Olin Brass Division, both of which are Granite City Steel Co. The group meets monthly on the fourth Wednesday.

Rebels win two

Granite City Park District women's volleyball teams were active last night, the Rebels defeated Matheus 15-3 and 15-1 while losing 15-10 to the game team.

Apple Valley won 15-9 and 15-11; Kentucky Fried Chicken won 15-9 and 15-11; Sam's stopped the Raggedy Ann 15-3, 15-7 and 15-2; while Bill's trimmed Midtown Pharmacy 15-11, 15-9 and again 15-9.

Governor here after holidays

Gov. Dan Walker's twice postponed "accountability session" in Granite City will be after the Christmas holidays," he told the Press-Record today.

He added that he would have liked to have come here Nov. 27, "but my doctor says no. He has advised me, because of my recent case of bronchitis, to limit to a limited schedule and severely restrict my travel. It is frustrating to postpone your session for a second time, but I think you will understand the reason."

THEFT FROM HOME

A television, a stereo and numerous records and items were reported stolen from the home of Lewis Morgan, 2662 Lincoln Ave., at 6:20 a.m. Wednesday. A pane of glass was broken to gain entrance.

Rev. Theodore Fryntzko guest lecturer at new Alaska school

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

The opening of a new school usually stirs enthusiasm among pupils, parents and teachers alike.

When St. Herman's Pastoral School officially opened this year at Kenai, Alaska, the excitement was generated as far away as California and Pennsylvania even traveling to the remote reaches of the Aleutian Island Chain, where the Rev. Father Theodore Fryntzko, a native Granite Cityan, now makes his home.

The Rev. Fryntzko is pastor of Holy Ascension of Christ Orthodox Church in America, formerly the Russian Orthodox Church.

His pastorate is located amid the rugged green hills of Unalaska Island, one of three islands in the Fox Islands group, south of the Alaska Peninsula.

To the north is the Bering Sea and beyond it the Soviet Union. Directly to the south across the Pacific Ocean is Midway Island.

Students from Unalaska Island will attend the St. Herman's Pastoral School, Alaska's newest higher educational institution opened under the auspices of the Orthodox Church in America, the Rev. Fryntzko said this week.

The former local resident was among the first guest lecturers registered at the new school. The facility is situated about 1,100 miles from Unalaska Island on Cook Inlet, south of Anchorage.

The pastoral school, will enable native Alaskans to be trained as readers and lay leaders and return to their respective parishes knowledgeable in Holy Scriptures, patristics, Orthodox doctrine, church history, didactics, comparative and pastoral theology, liturgies, homiletics, languages and music, the priest explained.

Study of native languages and the training of an indigenous clergy are considered necessities since the first class at St. Herman's drew its members from the lower Yukon, the Kuskokwim, the Aleutian Chain, the Alaska Peninsula, the Kenai Peninsula, Kodiak, the Prince William Sound area and Southeast Alaska.

Students entering the school's initial class represented a cross-section of the 97 Orthodox communities of the Alaskan Diocese, the Rev. Fryntzko said.

The pupils will apply themselves to the study of Church Slavonic, Russian, Aleut, as well as some Tlingit and Yupik Eskimo.

Use of the vernacular has always been a part of the life of the Orthodox Church, the clergyman said, illustrated by the fact that the first written Aleut alphabet was created by Russian missionaries and the Russian Orthodox Church laid the early foundation of the education system in Alaska.

As part of their training, the Rev. Fryntzko explained the students also will attend seminars on marital counseling, drug abuse and alcoholism provided by an Air Force officer. Lectures also will be given by outstanding Orthodox theologians from two other seminaries in the "Lower 48" through use of videotape equipment.

Some students will progress to the theological training schools in the United States, the Rev. Fryntzko said.

Primary objective of the new school is to train readers, choir directors, church school teachers and clergy, the former resident said.

There has been no such school in Alaska since the seminary in Unalaska was closed in 1917, and the need to cultivate a self-reliant church and develop an indigenous clergy as soon as possible are paramount goals of the Orthodox Church, he added.

The Rev. Fryntzko first traveled to the Aleutian Islands in December 1970 when he accepted a pastorate at Three Saints Orthodox Church at Old Harbor, a fishing village on Kodiak Island.

He remained at Old Harbor for one year and for the past two years has served the congregation at Holy Ascension of Christ Orthodox Church.

Among those teaching at the new school is Michael Oleksa of Ketchikan, Alaska, a friend of the Rev. Fryntzko and a subdeacon in the church. The young man primarily was responsible for writing a new prayer book in the Eskimo language, the first such publication since 1897, the priest said.

The Alaskan Diocese of the Orthodox Church in America is part of the former Russian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church.

Russian missionaries began work among the Eskimos on the Kuskokwim and Yukon Rivers in the late 1700's. In 1940, Father James Netsvetov devised a Yupik alphabet and provided some printed literature in that language, the Rev. Fryntzko said.

Most of the Orthodox Eskimos celebrate their services in Yupik, the only language spoken by children until they enter school, he noted.

The Rev. Fryntzko departed last night for Unalaska Island after a busy 10-day visit to the U.S. mainland.

Between lecturing at the Holy Transfiguration Orthodox Church and St. Herman's Orthodox Church, both in Denver, Colo., and attending a clergy Sobor for all priests and bishops in the Orthodox faith at Pittsburgh, Pa., he spent several days visiting with his family here.

The priest and his five brothers, Vasil, John, Andrew, Harry and Vladimir Fryntzko, all worked as Press-Record delivery boys at various times, collectively and individually. They have one sister, Mrs. Anthony (Oga) Simard of Granite City.

The Rev. Fryntzko was the first native son of Illinois to be ordained in his own church—

The Nativity of the Virgin Mary Orthodox Church, Fifth and Ewing streets, Madison—where earlier last evening he addressed the congregation following Akathist services.

During the World War II years, the Rev. Fryntzko served from 1942 to 1946 in the U.S. Navy Air Force. Upon discharge from the service, he was employed at General Steel Industries and attended courses at St. Louis University.

Later, he enrolled at St. Vladimir Orthodox Theological Seminary in New York, completing his studies there in 1954 and accomplishing undergraduate work at Columbia University in New York.

From 1954 until April 7, 1967, the priest was engaged in religious training work. At that time he was ordained at the Madison church.

The Rev. Fryntzko was born and reared in Granite City, attended McKinley Grade School, Central Junior High School and was graduated from Granite City High School.

He also has served at parishes in Montreal, Canada, at Holy Resurrection of Christ Orthodox Catholic Church in Sioux City, Iowa and as chaplain to the Most Rev. Metropolitan Ireney, primate of the Orthodox Church of America.

HOUSE IS RANSACKED

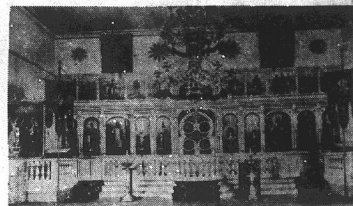

The home of Carl Tankelley, 2428 Kilarney Drive, was ransacked after a rear door was forced open, it was reported at 6:45 p.m. Monday. A radio was stolen. A camera was found by the back door where it apparently had been dropped by the burglar.

ENTER HOME ON GRAND

The home of Ann Wielgus, 2215 Grand Ave., was broken into, it was reported at 6:20 a.m. Wednesday. A rear door was pried but a window had to be broken before entry was gained, police believe. It was unknown if anything was stolen.

COLLIDE ON NAMEOKI

Carolyn Vest, 29, 3137 Maryville Road, suffered minor injuries when her car and the auto of Robert Doneff, 2653 Angela Drive, collided at Nameoki Road and St. Clair Avenue at 5:20 p.m. Tuesday.

SHARP CONTRAST with the stark surroundings of Holy Ascension of Christ Orthodox Church is the iconostasis, a screen-type wall of religious paintings inside the weathered frame structure. The sections part to reveal the altar during services.

Karns in court race

John M. Karns Jr., Belleville attorney, announced this week he will seek election to one of two vacancies of the Fifth District Appellate Court in the 1974 elections.

Karns, who served as a delegate to the 1970 Illinois Constitutional Convention, will be a candidate for appellate judge on the Democratic ticket in the March primary election.

While serving as constitutional delegate, Karns proposed the provision prohibiting judicial nomination by closed party caucus so that voters in each party would have the right to select candidates.

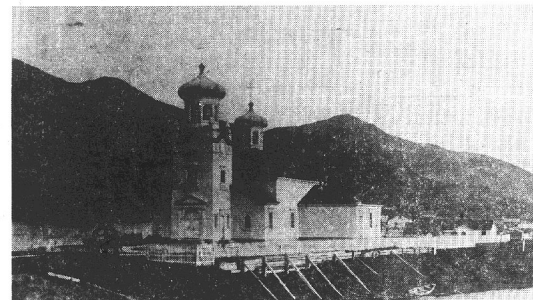

Karns is a graduate of the University of Illinois with a bachelor of arts degree in 1950, and Harvard University School of Law with an L.L.B. in 1953. He has practiced law in St. Clair County since 1953 and was elected president of the St. Clair County Bar Association for the 1972-73 year.

He also served two terms as state's attorney of St. Clair County from 1960 through 1968 and presently is one of two members of the Democratic National Committee from southern Illinois.

Rites held for Mrs. Chambers

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Wednesday at a funeral home in Fairview Heights for Mrs. Emily Chambers, 49, of 6 Mount Vernon Drive, Fairview Heights, a sister of Joseph Norris of Granite City. Burial was in Lakeview Memorial Gardens Cemetery, Belleville. She died at 8:30 a.m. Monday at Belleville Memorial Hospital. Other survivors include her husband, Leonard Chambers; one daughter, Miss Paula Lynn Chambers and a sister, Mrs. Helen Menendez of Fairmont City.

RUGGED MOUNTAINS form the background for Holy Ascension of Christ Orthodox Church on Unalaska Island in the Aleutian Islands, the pastoral seat of the Rev. Theodore Fryntzko, a former Granite City resident. The original church erected in 1894 included the square section at the rear. Many parishioners still travel to services by small boats as shown beached in the foreground.

Flood aid at $5.3 million

Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis), has announced that the Small Business Administration has awarded a total of over $5.3 million in flood disaster assistance to persons in his district whose homes or businesses were damaged by floods last spring.

St. Clair County residents received $4,533,745 which was used to repair 224 homes and 51 business properties. Residents of Madison County received $814,000 to repair 88 homes and 19 business properties.

Cong. Price was instrumental in expediting many individual claims, particularly those of persons whose homes were on land leased from the federal government. The Small Business Administration had initially refused to consider applications from these persons because of a clause in their leases.

People face challenge of redefining their energy necessities and luxuries

The stock market often tells us more about national emotions than the actual outlook for the American economy. It is a safe bet that its slide downward since the scope of our energy problem suddenly began to emerge reflects uncertainty more than anything. Exactly how the energy crisis will be felt in economic terms is unknown, but there is no reason why getting along with less petroleum for a while should knock a country like the United States of America for a loop.

This crisis is unlike many others our nation has faced because it is based on a set of facts rather than a set of unknowns. The Arab oil embargo has thrown us a curve, but even before the Middle East war we knew that in the coming decade we faced power shortages, higher fuel prices and a host of other problems stemming from our profligate use of energy and the lag in development of oil, gas and coal and nuclear resources to satisfy our needs.

The facts have prompted Congress to act with urgency on the legislation requested by President Nixon. Many steps for energy conservation taken at the federal level must be followed with action by state and local government. Above all, the allocation of our resources now grown precious must be based on fairness and common sense in measuring the impact on national security, industrial production, the business world and our personal lives.

It makes no sense, obviously, to tell bus lines to curtail their service at the same time Americans are being urged to ride a bus instead of driving their cars. Some new distinctions between convenience and necessity are in order. One of the greatest challenges lies in adjusting our anti-pollution programs and other environmental goals to immediate realities. The importance of environmental protection is not diminished one whit by the fuel crisis, but we are faced with changing—at least for the time being—our concept of what is acceptable and unacceptable in the way of environmental impact as it relates to fuel and energy production.

A new scale of values will see us through. Objections to year-round Daylight Saving Time are dwarfed by opportunity it presents to reduce power consumption. The number of motorists who are not waiting for an official reduction in speed limits to hold their cars to 50 miles per hour is an encouraging sign of public awareness of where the solution to energy problems lies. Reaching for a sweater instead of turning up a thermostat, after all, is a mild sacrifice compared to some the American people have made in national emergencies in the past.

The burden of doing what we have to do to save energy is one we can bear, hopefully without the greater burden of gasoline rationing and the bureaucratic intrusion into our lives that such measures entail. As we experience the very serious squeeze on fuel supplies this winter let's hope that we set ourselves on a path toward the more realistic balance between our energy needs and resources which is a primary goal for America in the 1970s.

Springfield bureau—State financial aid to private colleges must continue PROVIDING sufficient opportunities for higher education for high school graduates is a challenge in a state as large and diversified as Illinois.

This has become increasingly so in a period of painful inflation and the resulting financial squeeze on most families especially those of the middle income group.

However, as difficult as the problem may be, it is certainly not one that lends itself to the meat axe approach for solution.

This unfortunately is the approach advocated to the Illinois Board of Higher Education by a committee of trustees and administrators of Southern Illinois University.

The committee recommends halting state aid to private colleges and establishing free tuition at state institutions.

Such a policy, if placed into effect, would not only push over the brink of doom many fine but financially struggling private colleges, but also would destroy the concept long held in Illinois that the over-all quality of higher education is best assured by complementary systems of public and private colleges.

Not only has this concept proved valid over the years, but in recent years there has been a significant increase in cooperation between state and private colleges which has permitted a broadened utilization of facilities and resources to the benefit of students in each system.

The major portion of the state contributions to the private colleges, amounting to about $65 million a year, is in the form of scholarships. This amount is hardly a critical drain on the overall higher education budget, which is $775 million for the current fiscal year.

Were the private colleges to go under and their students forced to shift to the state institutions one can be sure the strain on the state treasury would be far greater.

There are many who would question whether anyone should be permitted to attend a state college or university without paying tuition. Not all families or taxpayers have sons or daughters in state colleges and should not be expected to bear an undue cost of the education of relatives of others.

There may well be some looseness in the scholarship program, as noted by the SIU committee. Perhaps, some improvements can and should be made.

But state aid to private colleges should be retained. It is a good investment.

Courtesy program by Illinois Secretary of State staff a welcome innovation

SECRETARY of State Michael J. Howlett's recently announced PLUS program is a welcome innovation in state government.

Its aim is to improve the treatment which the average Illinois citizen receives when he does business with the secretary of state. Because it provides such services as issuing driver's license and auto license plates the office has daily contact with thousands of individuals.

Just about everyone at some time or other has been irritated by curt treatment by some government official at the state, federal or local level. Such an attitude by anyone paid from tax funds is unacceptable.

Through Operation PLUS Howlett has created an opportunity not only to end such an attitude in the secretary of state's office, but to achieve for his own employees a new sense of pride in their jobs. By doing so he will not only be increasing efficiency in the office, but gaining for the employees a respect from the public of Illinois.

Simulated 'spill' makes EPA action center jump

By SUSAN L. SACHS

SPRINGFIELD — "There has been a train derailment at the Chicago and Illinois Midland train yard. It involves a tank car which is leaking a large quantity of unknown gas," crackled the transmitter.

"This is a simulated incident," it finished.

A lone Illinois National Guard member stands on top of a tank car, ignites a smoke pot, and clambers down, setting in motion a practice air pollution emergency. The incident was designed by the state Environmental Protection Agency to train their engineers and evaluate communication systems during a controlled incident involving hazardous materials.

It was also an opportunity to let civil authorities know how the EPA's Emergency Action Center works.

1:40 p.m. — As gray smoke wafts gently over the train yard, officials of the railroad are informed and appear on the scene.

1:42 p.m. — The Emergency Action Center is notified of the incident. Unfortunately it takes the police department three phone calls to get in touch with the center, and the center then has trouble finding the proper engineers. They are all at smoke reading school out at a Department of Transportation maintenance yard. They are the only ones in the exercise who did not know when the simulated wreck would occur.

1:46 p.m. — The Springfield Police Department arrives. Capt. R. Adams says it's the first and he hopes the last hazardous materials incident he'll have to cover.

As county and sheriff's police arrive, the smoke peters out, so the National Guard sets up another smoke pot under the train, which leaks strange yellow fumes over the area. Residents are beginning to come out of their homes to investigate.

1:49 p.m. — The fire department arrives.

The rumor circulates that the EPA engineers are on their way but have been held up by a slow passing train.

2:10 p.m. — The engineers arrive. Some of their group, they report, were stopped by police for speeding and will arrive shortly.

"We can't give you permission to break the law," Capt. Adams reminds them later.

"You've got to use your hard hats and your identification to get you out of those situations," an EPA official told them.

2:20 p.m. — The county and city Civil Defense people arrive. The Rescue Squad struggles to get into their yellow, spacecanlike "acid suits," which contain their self-contained breathing apparatus.

"We've only used these in training," grunts Terry Moore, as he tries to put his foot into the outfit.

But the EPA engineers get right to work, gauging weather conditions and testing the nature and concentration of the material. Nitric acid, they decide and a second car contains benzene. Meanwhile, a bill of lading has been filed by Tom Wright, CDM police chief, and the men determine that a third car contains metallic sodium.

Water is prescribed for the first two, but firemen are warned that water will make the sodium extremely hazardous. The firemen, who have been waiting around in masks and heavy jackets, finally start up their hoses.

As the smoke cleared and the danger was proclaimed over, the firemen, police, guardsmen, and environmental and railroad officials lit up an evaluation session.

"It went off pretty well," said Bill Hoyle, who set up the exercise. "The delays we experienced could easily happen in a real situation."

There are now no systems for monitoring the transport of potentially hazardous materials, he commented.

From January through September, 1973, there were 59 reported air pollution incidents involving hazardous materials in Illinois, Hoyle noted.

The role of the EPA's Emergency Action Center in these and other pollution emergencies is to identify the material and to explain the hazards involved.

"We want to reduce the number of spills," said Hoyle. "And if a spill does occur we want to reduce the severity."

TURKEY ENDANGERING ARMENIAN HERITAGE

To the Editor:
As an American citizen of Armenian heritage, I am disturbed at the authenticated reports reaching the United States that Turkey has re-emphasized its traditional program of harassment and persecution of Armenians and other minorities (Greeks, Jews, etc.) in that country.

The new Turkish programs are aimed at destruction of the Armenian educational system, "guaranteed" by the Turkish Republican Constitution and the Treaty of Lausanne.

The purpose of this latest action is to scotch the Armenian schooling of the young people so that they will totally lose their language, their heritage and finally their identity.

This is genocide in a most subtle form, and we will recall that in 1915-16 Turkey utilized genocide in its violent aspects in working toward the same principle of total destruction of the Armenian heritage in Turkey by the use of massacre and deportation.

New Turkish moves against the education of Armenians comprehend a new decision that Armenian young people must "prove" non-Turkish parentage before being allowed to attend Armenian schools.

School and other national Armenian institutions may no longer benefit from wills and bequests.

Armenian elementary schools may no longer recruit instructors who are graduates of Armenian schools.

School teachers aspiring to work in the Armenian school system must henceforth undergo four additional years of "training" in Turkish schools—something which makes the career of teaching in Armenian schools unattractive to young teachers.

Additionally, Armenian schools and orphanages are being closed up under the pretext of "eminent domain" and may not be relocated, curriculum items now are being taught solely in the Turkish language, and the Central Executive of the Armenian community has been dissolved.

The failure of the United States government and American good will to press on the NATO assembly the need to stop and desist from its traditional "Armenian policy" is a tragedy.

It is equally mean that the United States is practicing expediency and inhumanity in its foreign policy.

We must stand aside and let "more than 100,000 Armenians in Turkey be pushed into the road of cultural and ethnic annihilation."

Assembly to be given academic know-how

SPRINGFIELD — Several Illinois universities are embarked on studies which will ultimately provide "top academic expertise for members of the Illinois legislature," according to Charles Scolare, research associate for the Illinois Legislative Council. The council is the legislature's agency for researching issues.

The studies are part of a new program initiated last spring by the ILC. It provides for money to contract faculty members at both public and private universities throughout Illinois for special research projects to be used by members of the General Assembly.

"Most of the ILC staff members are lawyers or political scientists and not scientists or technologists," explained Scolare. "Many new areas coming under consideration by the legislature deal with things that require special knowledge — such as environmental or energy legislation — and that's why this program was set up."

At present, three universities have agreed to do research and one university has filed a formal report. "Mental States, Sanity and Altruism: A Study of the Art Analysis" was compiled by Northern Illinois University psychologist Dr. Steven Schwartz. The first study contracted, it deals with the definition of mental illness, assessment and prediction of behavior, treatment of mental illness, and mind-altering devices and programs.

Studies are under way at Sangamon State University in Springfield on the basic elements of a fossil fuel energy policy for Illinois, at DePaul University in Chicago on attitudes, drug abuse and the law, and at Loyola University in Chicago on the impact of local scientific and technological devices and programs.

"The research will attempt to define problems with a potential for becoming public policy issues requiring legislative attention," said Rep. Tobias ("Tooby") Barry, D-Ladd, chairman of the ILC.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES ALBAUGH, who exchanged wedding vows at the First Baptist Church in Collinsville. The bride is the former Miss Claudia Marie Crouch, a daughter of Mrs. Mamie Virginia Crouch, 4069 Bruene Ave. (Lazenby Photographers)

Albaugh-Crouch nuptials at Collinsville church

The wedding of Miss Claudia Marie Crouch, a daughter of Mrs. Mamie Virginia Crouch, 4069 Bruene Ave., and James Edward Albaugh Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Albaugh, 1200 Olive St., Collinsville, was solemnized at the First Baptist Church in Collinsville on Nov. 17.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening was the Rev. David King. Betty Albaugh, an aunt of the groom, sang "The Wedding Song" and "Together," accompanied at the organ by Jennifer Klein.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Philip Drennan, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white polyester organza. Scalloped Chantilly lace, beaded with iridescent crystal sequins, was applied on the Empire bodice and formed the high collar and cuffs of the long sheer sleeves.

Vertical bands of lace trimmed the slightly flared skirt made with a full detachable chapel train edged in matching lace. A train length veil of imported bridal illusion was banded with the decorative lace and secured to a lace camelot hat.

She carried a Victorian bouquet of red and pink Sweetheart roses festooned with long pink satin streamers.

Mrs. Philip Drennan, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Misses Lori Albaugh, the groom's sister, and Rhonda Crouch, a niece of the bride, were bridesmaids. Miss Candace Bowen, a cousin of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns in purple, ruby, blue and green. Chiffon veils fashioned the Empire bodices, creating a jumper effect. The yokes with high ruffled collars and the long full sleeves were made of taffeta.

The A-line skirts, floor length, were in matching taffeta and featured a ruffled flounce at the hemline caught up in the back to form an apron style.

Each girl wore a picture hat in a matching color with pastel shaggy ribbons and held a nosegay of carnations. Joe Sarbaugh served as best man. Groomsman and ushers included Rick Wright, Ricky Albaugh, a brother of the groom, Phil Drennan Jr., Harry Brent, Steve Hisler and Bruce Drennan.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Crouch selected a two-piece dress, street length, in silver with matching accessories.

Mrs. Albaugh, the groom's mother, was attired in a floor-length green velvet gown and green accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

Mrs. Marty Dub, the groom's sister, registered guests at a reception held in the church fellowship hall following the service.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at Riedel's Restaurant in Edwardsville.

The former Miss Crouch is a graduate of Okaville (Ill.) High School. Her husband was graduated from Collinsville High School. Both are employed at Southwestern Railroad Co.

GC Crippled Children's benefit ball Saturday

Entertainment by Allen Bogovich, a comedian and accordionist, and Peggy Marlin, a widely known vocalist, will highlight the fourth annual "Benefit Ball" of the Granite City Society for Crippled Children on Saturday evening at the Croatian Home in Madison.

Louis Paschoff, president, said tickets still are available at $4 per person at Bill Burns Cafeteria, State Radio and TV, Michel's Jewelry and Gift Shop or by calling Mrs. Marge Greenwood, at 876-313 or Mrs. Rayth Stallings, at 876-0174.

The popular "Four Seasons" orchestra will furnish music for dancing from 9 p.m. Saturday until 1 a.m. Sunday, Paschoff said.

Cocktails will be available to ball patrons starting at 6 p.m., with a buffet dinner to be served at 7 o'clock by Burns Catering Service. Entertainment by Mr. Marlin and Bogovich will follow the meal.

Contributing awards for the occasion are Gasen Drugs, Essen-Schermer Hardware store, Lord Nelson Mens Shop, Shang's Warehouse Liquor, Corral Liquor, Grant City Store, Reese Drugs, Joseph's School of Hair Fashion, Powder Puff Beauty Salon, Ben Oonk Drive-In, Granite City School of Beauty Culture, Schermer Bros. Market, Farm and Home Savings Association, Michel's Jewelry and Gift Shop and State Radio and TV.

MRS. WARREN JONES HOSTS BRIDGE CLUB Mrs. Warren Jones, 319 Louise Ave., Collinsville, was hostess to the First Friday Bridge Club at a meeting held in her home during the weekend. She was assisted by her granddaughter, Chris Borow, Honors went to Mrs. Diane Borow and Mrs. Lucille Broyles.

Refreshments were served to those named and to Mesdames Norma Kachigian, Sue Krueger, Elvira Thurber, June Stieb, Elsie Wadlow and Emilou Boyer.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Kachigian, 2660 State St.

House for Sale

CORNBEAD RED!
Where are you? We sold the house that crazy Shirley ordered a couple of weeks ago, and now we have a property ordered by another missing person called Cornbead Red. CORNBED RED is what he called himself. He came in and said he wanted a one acre retirement spot here on the edge of town with a little place he could live. Cornbead said it had to have a small orchard, city water, gas, electric, telephone, and a good disposal system. He wanted to have dogs, rabbits, and a chicken or two. Said he liked his own fresh tomatoes, peaches and ladybugs. Well, we found a place and he bought the owner in Arkansas who said sell for $6000, with a couple of thousand down. Cash would take. The place is all set up at 4708 Division Street, but we can't find Cornbead Red. Arkansas owner now says sell, sell, sell. Help yourself, help us out - call to see now.

CORNBREAD REDI!
Where are you? We had the best that crazy Shirley ordered a couple of weeks ago, and now we have a property ordered by another missing person called Cornbread Red. CORNBREAD REDI is what he called himself. He came in and said he wanted a one acre retirement spot time to relax on the edge of town with a little place he could live a Cornbread it had to have a small orchard, city water, gas, electric, telephone, and a good disposal system. He wanted to have dogs, rabbits, and a chicken or two. Said he liked his own fresh turnips, parsnips, and carrots. Well, we found a place and turned down the owner in Arkansas who said sold for $6000, with a couple of thousand down. Cash would take. The place is all set up at 4708 Division Street, but we can't find Cornbread Red. Arkansas owner now says call, call, help yourself, help us out - call to be served.

WE WISH to express our thanks to SHIRLEY OTTINGER for helping me make Thanksgiving a happier day for the elderly.
Some can't see to cook, some can't see to read but she always has time to cook, make a bed, read the Bible or sew a dress.
All who know her: love her.
Shirley, we pray God will send more like you; so more like us can have happier days.

New center for adult offenders

A juvenile correctional facility in the Jubilee hills, 18 miles northwest of Peoria, is being transformed into a work release center for adult male offenders, Illinois Department of Corrections Director Allyn R. Sielaff has announced.

It will be closed as a juvenile facility Dec. 15 and the residents will be transferred to other institutions.

The new tenants will be residents of the Peoria Work Release Center, located on the grounds of Peoria State Hospital in Bartonville. The corrections department is abandoning its leased facilities because the hospital is being phased out by the Department of Mental Health Dec. 15.

The 22 work releasees will move to Jubilee as soon as minor changes are made to the modernistic multi-level building, which won an award for its architect-designer in 1969. When the work is completed, the center's capacity will be about 30.

A steadily decreasing population in the Juvenile Division has enabled us to close Jubilee Boys' School and make it available as a work release center," Sielaff said.

"The relocation of the center to Jubilee Lodge near Brimfield is a shot in the arm for the work release program and we are pleased to retain this beautiful facility in the Department of Corrections family, for which it was originally designed and built."

The juvenile facility's 19-member staff will be given first chance at employment opportunities at other department institutions as vacancies arise.

The annual budget for Jubilee Boys' School is $313,000, according to Joe Lee Brown Jr., superintendent. Michael Pavich is supervisor of the Peoria Work Release Center.

Name 6 to real estate panel

Six appointments to the Illinois Real Estate Examining Committee have been made by Dr. Dean Barringer, director of the Illinois Department of Registration and Education.

Membership on the committee has been expanded to include two persons who will represent the public at large, according to the Real Estate Brokers and Salesmen License Act signed by Gov. Dan Walker on Sept. 20.

Real estate members named to the committee are: William B. Gile Sr., Carbondale; Frank G. St. Angel, Rockford; Ruby E. Sneed, Harvey; and Harry Goltsch, Chicago.

Public members are John E. King and Marie Score, both of Chicago. Barringer said the duties of the committee include administration of examinations, scoring of tests, recommendations to the director for licensure of successful candidates, important assistance in action against license violations and other duties assigned by the director.

BURGLARY CHARGED

James Riley, 41, of Wood River, was charged with burglary this week after officers arrested him at P.F.D. Supply Co., 1100 Niedringhaus Ave., a division of Prairie Farms Dairy Inc. He allegedly entered the supply company office through a door from the Gateway Distributing Co. office in the same building and attempted to remove items from the building.

Newspapers trace history of Illinois

Statehood Day will be celebrated in Illinois Monday and Gov. Dan Walker proclaimed Nov. 26-Dec. 3 as Illinois History Week.

Many historical and civic organizations will observe the state's 150th birthday next Monday.

It will occasion a special observance by the Illinois State Historical Library and the State Historical Society. Together, they form the only statewide organization devoted to the collection and dissemination of Illinois history.

Their work is coordinated by the state historian, William K. Alderfer, who serves as head of the Library and executive director of the Society. The Library is located at the Old State Capitol in downtown Springfield, as are the offices of the Society.

While the Library collects books, manuscripts, pictures, maps and historical memorabilia, its most important day-to-day source of Illinois history, according to Alderfer, is its collection of Illinois newspapers.

The largest such collection to be found anywhere, it is in constant use by authors as the source for articles and books and by students to provide material for their theses.

It is also an invaluable source of genealogical data; lawyers use it in preparing their cases.

This collection has grown to more than 43,425 reels of microfilm and is increasing daily—303 newspapers (dailies, weeklies and semi-weeklies) are received regularly and old papers are acquired as they become available.

When the Library began microfilming more than 20 years ago it had 11,000 volumes of bound newspapers plus thousands of loose papers; storage space was rapidly running out.

Microfilming was the answer to the space problem—a four-inch square microfilm box is much more easily stored and handled than a 20 by 24-inch, 10-pound box.

The Library's current collection represents more than 40 million newspaper pages—a stack of newspaper pages—about two miles high.

One microfilm reel 100 feet long can contain as much as a four-year file of the early four-page weekly papers or as few as four days of some current Chicago dailies.

The Library's collection contains files from all of the state's 102 counties; more than 600 cities and towns are represented by 2,000 newspaper titles.

Although the Library began collecting newspapers soon after it was founded in 1889 and many of the papers were gifts from the publishers, there have been several other notable acquisitions.

In 1954 the state auditor turned over to the Library 90 bound volumes containing more than 5,500 individual copies of newspapers. These covered various periods dating as far back as 1820 and extending to 1917.

Most contained delinquent tax lists, notices of the sale of state lands, or of forfeited property. They had been sent to the state auditor as proof of payment to the editors could receive payment.

In the early 1960s, the Illinois Civil War Centennial Commission purchased a large collection of Illinois and out-of-state papers to be used in studies of the 1860-67 period.

Other valuable collections were acquired from Southern Illinois University and the University of Illinois.

While a single issue of a newspaper may supply the specific information a researcher wants, Alderfer is careful to note that the ideal newspaper collection is an unbroken file representing a long period of time.

The Library has 76 files of Illinois papers extending a hundred years or longer.

The collection also contains some important single issues and short files. One is the only known copy of the Illinois Herald which was published at Kaskaskia, the territorial and first state capital.

The Library's copy is dated Dec. 13, 1814, and is No. 30 of this issue. This indicates that the first paper published in the territory would have been dated Wednesday, May 24, 1814—if the numbering was correct and a publication date had not been missed for lack of paper or some other reason.

Two other historic papers in the Library collection have to do with freedom of the press in Illinois.

One is a file (lacking four issues) of Elijah P. Lovejoy's anti-slavery Alton Observer from Sept. 3, 1836, to Aug. 10, 1837. Lovejoy was killed by a mob Nov. 7, 1837 when he attempted to defend the press warehouse where his press was stored.

Another historic paper is one of three known copies of the anti-Mormon Nauvoo Expositor dated June 7, 1844. The Expositor's printing plant was destroyed on orders from Mormon leader Joseph Smith.

The rioting resulted led to the arrest of Joseph Smith and his brother Hyrum and their assassination by a mob at the Carthage jail June 27.

Many of the newspaper titles in the collection were the result of the consolidation of two or more papers—the longest name being the "Prairie Hen, the Antioch Pill, the Jericho-Jingle, & Land of Nod Loop-Hole."

Expect rush for mailorder stamps

Quad-City postmasters said this week that they anticipate a big increase in the number of stamps by mail order as the Christmas mail season approaches.

"A lot of people are going to prefer ordering stamps by mail to going to the post office to purchase stamps," a statement by the postmasters said, "and orders come from persons whose work schedules preclude trips to the post office, shut-ins, the infirm, and small businesses."

"However, we expect people of all ages and situations to write in for stamps during the Christmas rush."

The postmasters reminded customers that they may order one or more of the following:

Roll of 100 eight-cent stamps, $8; sheet of 100 eight-cent stamps, $8; two books of eight-cent stamps, $4; one book of 11-cent and two books of eight-cent stamps, $5.

50 stamped eight-cent envelopes (6 1/4" long), $5; 50 stamped eight-cent envelopes (10" long), $5.

A 40-cent fee is charged to defray the cost of postage, internal processing of checks, and other costs associated with this service.

Marriage licenses issued in St. Louis to Quad-City residents:

G. B. Halbe, Granite City, and L. L. Fennewald, St. Louis; D. Such, Granite City, and L. M. Wojciechowski, 423 S. Christian St.; R. A. Thomas, Granite City, and P. L. Echelmeyer, Collinsville.

Members of Epsilon Pi chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, during the weekend helped point and repair the Equal Opportunity Commission building in Madison.

Working on the project was Phil Sandbach, Lee Willie, James Greer, Mike Bilbey, Tim Lux, Robert Rogauski, Bill Weidner, Bill Schodroski, Rich Wallace, Mike Durbin, and Bill Fox.

TOOLS STOLEN
Tools valued at $400 belonging to Matt Hufford were stolen from his truck in the Kirkpatrick Homes parking lot during the weekend.

Urges leaves be hauled away despite lack of burning ban

Leaf burning may be legal in Granite City since revocation of a state ban against open burning, but the smoke is offensive to many persons, particularly those suffering allergies or respiratory ailments. Dr. Reid Sutton, assistant technical secretary of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board, said today.

Dr. Sutton noted that Granite City residents are paying additional costs for hauling leaves and brush and that by burning leaves "they actually are throwing away their money."

By continuing the past practice of bagging leaves and letting the trash haulers pick them up, householders will help in part to solve the city's air pollution problem, he added. Leaf burning now is legal in Granite City except that leaves and brush may not be burned on paved streets, curbs or sidewalks because of the potential damage to the streets and walks.

Abolish final exams

A policy abolishing final examinations for students with zero or one excused absence per semester has gone into effect today at Granite City High School-South and a similar policy is being considered for GCHS-North.

The Board of Education was informed of the policy at its meeting last week by James Dumont, South's principal. The board allowed the policy to stand without voting on it.

Dumont explained the "no finals" policy for students with excellent attendance records should encourage better attendance and that "borderline students, those with sniffles or a cold, may decide to attend rather than stay home."

He said policy was put into effect last year at Collinsville High School and the average daily attendance there increased from 92.5 per cent to 95.3 per cent while the average daily number absent declined from 101 to 63.

Students qualifying for the "no final" provision may take final exams if they wish, he said. The policy is on a "class by class basis," he explained and students with two or more excused absences in one class only will still have to take that class' final exam.

For purposes of keeping attendance, approved college visitations, service examinations and athletic dismissals will be considered field trips, not absences, Dumont said.

He added that building representatives at South have supported the idea "100 per cent." Students still will have to take "mid-term" examinations at the end of the first nine weeks of each semester.

Kiwanians plan ladies' night

The first ladies night of the newly organized Breakfast Kiwanis club will be held beginning at 6:30 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 6, at Charlie's restaurant, according to Donald Moser, chairman of the event.

Members of the club and any visiting Kiwanians planning to attend are asked to pay their $13 per-couple charge to Jack Mulach, club secretary, 56 Terrace Lane, as soon as possible.

Norman Hall, a member of the club, will discuss the current fuel shortage and how it will affect people in Granite City.

A gift to every lady attending will be presented.

HOUSE BURGLARY

Thieves took a stereo phonograph worth $100 and a color television valued at $400 from the home of Richard McKintosh, 212 Hampton Ave., Venice, during the weekend. Entry was gained by breaking a window in the back door.

STEEL RECYCLING. St. Louis Refuse Commissioner G. Wayne Sutterfield, left, puts the last shovel of ferrous refuse onto the first truckload of city scrap sent to be recycled into steel again at Granite City Steel. Looking on are, right, Dr. Donald F. Cairns, vice president, Granite City Steel Division, and center, F. E. Tucker, vice president for environmental control, National Steel Corporation.

The scrap, 15 to 20 tons daily, is being remelted in Granite City Steel blast furnaces, expanding the program in which Union Electric Co. burns part of the city's combustible wastes to generate electricity. The expansion, made possible by installation of new processing equipment, was financed by $500,000 from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the City of St. Louis and the American Iron and Steel Institute. The system is the nation's first such complete resource recovery project.

Time-saving elements in 1973 income tax forms

Springfield District taxpayers will find a number of time-saving improvements on 1973 individual income tax returns as well as shortened and simplified instructions, Leon C. Green, District Director of Internal Revenue, has announced.

Describing the long Form 1040 and the short Form 1040A, which are now being printed, Green estimated that over 1½ million individual returns would be filed in the Springfield District for 1973. Taxpayers in the district filed 1,127,857 returns for 1972.

Steps taken by the IRS to improve tax forms, Green said, "should enable many taxpayers to complete their returns with less difficulty and in less time than last year."

So that taxpayers can file early and receive refunds in less time than those filing closer to the April 15 due date, Green urged employers to distribute W-2 withholding forms as soon as possible. W-2's for 1973, generally, must be distributed by Jan. 31, 1974.

Most taxpayers who file in January receive their refunds in four to five weeks, while later filers may have to wait as long as eight weeks, because of the greater volume of returns.

Wheat, 2935 Washington; Maude Poehse, 1660 Fifth, Madison; Lois Grammer, 2901 Ohio; Linda Getz, 3003 National; Sharon May Marczak, Rural Route Two, Box 1127; Mabel Simpson, 2969 Circle; Regina Bohnenstiel, 3002 Nameoki; Jacquelyn Moser, 1643 Fifth, Madison; Katherine Hayes, 1529 Fourth, Madison.

Terry Jarosiewicz, Box 117, Mitchell Drive; George Schneidern Normandy, Mo.; Mary Venorsky, 2744 State; Frances Cynarski, 2110 Waterman; Kimberly Davis, Box 62 Kaseberg Park; Susie Marie Auxier, 2163 Delmar; Muriel Vehl, 3116 Yale; Stella Harnettus, 10 Tulip.

received, Green said. Major improvements in the 1973 tax forms are:

- elimination of Schedule B for reporting details of dividends and interest;
- elimination of the requirement to list contributions for which the taxpayer has cancelled checks or receipts;
- elimination of the requirement to list names and dates for claiming payments to doctors, dentists and hospitals;
- reduction in the number of revenue-sharing questions to a single item; and
- elimination of income limitations for filing the 1040A short form.

Taxpayers also will find two lines on their returns relating to the 1976 Presidential Election Campaign Fund checkoff: one line permitting them to check off for 1973 returns and now wish to do so.

In discussing the instructions for 1973 returns, Green said the IRS has not only shortened the instructions but has revised much of the material in easier-to-understand language. This should enable more taxpayers than before to prepare their own returns.

Green also said most taxpayers will receive their 1974 tax packages in the mail by the early part of January 1974. Taxpayers can obtain additional forms and instructions throughout the filing period at most banks, postal service stations and IRS offices.

Rare Drum at SIUE

A rare, handmade drum from the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal has been given to the anthropology teaching museum of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The drum is a gift from Thomas Pacatte, a 1972 graduate of the University who is now with the U.S. Peace Corps in Kathmandu, Nepal.

Pacatte said the drum is about 40 years old, from the South Central region of Nepal. He said he has seen similar drums used in wedding ceremonies and cremation rituals. The body of the drum is made of heavy gauge metal, apparently aluminum. The heads are made of hide, and are bound to the drum with reed.

Theodore R. Frisbie, assistant professor of anthropology and director of the teaching museum, valued the drum at $100.

North Band to start first season

MRS. HAGAN HOSTS
WE FOUR CLUB
The "We Four Club" was entertained last week at the home of Mrs. Della Hagan, 2530 Edwards St.
Games were played and prizes were awarded to Emma Gobble, first, and to Avis Moore, second.
The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Caroline Lux Dec. 8.

HOLIDAY SERVICE, 452-3131

The 90-member concert band of Granite City High School North will give its initial performance of the season at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 4, in the new auditorium at Granite City High School South, Robert D. Todoroff, director, announced today.
At the band's debut event, young women musicians will be attired in formals while the male band students will premiere the new North High uniforms. Members of the "Steelers" pom-pom squad, also dressed in formals, will distribute the programs.

Band members presently are selling season tickets at a cost of $2.50 for admission of two adults at the four performances. The remaining concerts are scheduled on Feb. 5, March 12 and April 2.
Only the February appearance of the band will be at North High School, Todoroff said. The final two concerts again will be staged at South High auditorium.
In approaching their first concert season, the North musicians are preparing a variety of music aimed at satisfying the taste of a wide range of audience appeal, Todoroff said.

"The new auditorium should enhance any concert presentation, both acoustically and visually, and we are all excited about having the use of an auditorium once again," the director stated.
A "Pop and Pretzel" evening, featuring soda and pretzels served by the "Steelers" to the audience at nominal cost as the band presents popular style music, is planned for Feb. 5.
All four concerts in the series are Tuesday evening presentations. Individual admission will cost 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for students.

MISS KIM WORSTER HOME FROM VIRGINIA SCHOOL
Miss Kim Worster, a freshman at Lynchburg Baptist College, Lynchburg, Va., spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Worster, 3256 Wabash Ave.

Also a house guest of the Worster family was Charles Frazier of Ripley, W. Va., a student at the same college.
Dinner guests entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Worster during the holiday period were Mrs. and Mrs. Brooks Weir, Mrs. Stella Arnold and Kevin and Kellye Worster.

MRS. AND MRS. WILLIAM GROVE. They exchanged wedding vows in an evening ceremony at the Third Baptist Church. She is the former Miss Deborah Lynn Smith, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Smith, 2832 State St. (Ollis Photography)

Deborah L. Smith bride of William Alan Grove

Miss Deborah Lynn Smith, a daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Clifford C. Smith, 2832 State St., and William Alan Grove, son of Mrs. and Mrs. George P. Grove, 750 E. Ferguson Ave., Wood River, were united in marriage at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 19 at the Third Baptist Church.

The Rev. Carl Watkins officiated at the double ring candlelight ceremony before an altar decorated with bouquets of fall flowers.

Miss Peggy Hightower sang "We're Only Just Begun," "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied at the organ by Miss Marilyn Stagner.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white sheer over polyester designed with a scoop neckline and long full sleeves, appliqued with lace motifs.

A delicate lace trim encircled the hem of the slightly full skirt and edged the mantilla style veil. She held a teardrop bouquet of white carnations, baby breath and greenery.

The maid of honor, Miss Lorraine Forsyth, of Springfield, Ill., and the bridesmaid, Miss Laura Smith, a sister of the bride, wore identical dresses in buttercup yellow with the sole.

Their frocks were made with scoop necklines, three quarter-length bell sleeves and long skirts.

Each attendant wore a short veil secured with ribbon bows to match her dress.

The flower girl, Wendy Tillinghast, of Manchester, Mo., a niece of the groom, wore a full-length dotted swiss frock in orange and carried a basket of flower petals.

Attending the groom as best man was Michael Brown and the groomsmen were David Winnett. Both are from Wood River.

Ushers were Michael Grove, a brother of the groom, Steven Seales, Mark Wolf and William Luebben. James Smith, a brother of the bride, served as ringbearer.

The newly married couple received approximately 300 guests at a reception held at the church immediately following the ceremony.

The parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner at Charlie's Restaurant.

The couple is now residing in Wood River.

GC art teacher addresses club

Mrs. Phyllis Crews, a teacher of art and appreciation at Granite City High School-South, was guest speaker last week at the November meeting of the Nameoki Women's Club.

The group met at the Nameoki Recreation Center, with Mrs. E. M. Arnovitz, Mrs. Adolph Weiss, Mrs. Herman Steinberg and Mrs. Elmer Branding as hostesses.

Mrs. Ted Scharfer, President, welcomed two new members, Mrs. William Irvin and Mrs. Lawrence McCauley.

An invitation from the Troy Woman's Club to attend its 50th anniversary tea was announced by Mrs. Schaefer, who also reviewed several meetings she recently attended.

Mrs. Emmett Beeler reported being chosen by the Madison County District Association to serve on a committee charged with compiling rules for a speech contest.

In addition to those named, others attending the meeting were Miss Lily Dod, Miss Lucinda Huok and Mesdames Harold Caldwell, Lucian Dressel, John Harsh, Harold Jansen, Russell Johnson, John Jettiz, Louis Meek, Sam Meyer, Emil Mueller, Otto Shelton, James Stuart, Albert Taylor, Irby Todd, Roy Wilmszig, Fred Werner and William Irvin.

Fuel crisis club topic

The Junior Bay View Reading Club met last week in the home of Mrs. Charles Hunsinger, 5 Del Rio. The current event was presented by Mrs. William Beatty, who discussed the government's standby gasoline and fuel oil rationing plan for the winter months ahead.

The program for the evening was a review by Mrs. Charles Lexow of the book, "Miss Elizabeth Arden, and Unreluctant Portrait," written by Alfred Allen Lewis and Constance Woodworth.

The president, Mrs. Arthur Koerper, announced that the group's Christmas party will be held on Dec. 12 in her home, with Mrs. Mickey Loftus assisting.

GC business women attend breakfast

Five members of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club were guests during the weekend at the third annual "Prayer Breakfast" sponsored by the Collinsville Business and Professional Women's Club.

Those attending the program at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn were Mrs. Lil Marzluf, president, Mrs. Pauline Weir, Mrs. Verna Lengyel, Mrs. Toni Lynch and Mrs. Lorene Sadrakula.

Strict snowmobile rules at 8 parks

Eight state parks will be open to snowmobiling this winter, according to Conservation Director Tony Dean. But failure of users to observe trail regulations could force closing of the sites to snowmobiling, he said.

"While the Illinois Department of Conservation has a statutory mandate to provide recreational opportunities for the people, it has a similar mandate to protect and preserve outstanding examples of Illinois' environmental heritage."

"Our snowmobile regulations are designed to reduce conflicts between these two obligations," Dean said.

User registration offices are provided at all eight sites and warming houses are available at five of them. Concession stands, special parking facilities and pavilions may be open in some areas.

The eight state parks, trail lengths and additional facilities are:

—Lake, Le-Anna-Na, near Lena, Stephenson County—Eight miles of designated fire trails and roads; warming house.

—Mississippi Palisades, near Savanna, Carroll County—15 miles of abandoned ski trails and roads, plus 40 acres of fields; warming house.

—Rock Cut, north of Rockford, Winnebago County—15 miles of designated trails; registration area only.

—Chain O' Lakes, north of Fox

—Silver Springs, south of Plano, Kendall County—Three to five miles of designated trails; warming house.

—Kankakee River, near Kankakee, in Kankakee and Will counties—2½ miles of designated trails; warming house; pavilion.

—Hennepin Canal, in Rock Island, Bureau and Henry counties—53-mile trail along canal towpath; registration area only.

—Johnson-Sauk Trail, south of Annawan, Henry County—18 miles of designated trails and roads; warming house, concession stand, parking facilities.

Dean said Illinois Beach State Park, a popular Lake County snowmobiling site last year, will not be open to the sport this year because of repeated abuses of trail regulations last season.

He said there were instances where Nature Preserve boundaries were not respected, and incidents when users left assigned areas or trails.

Snowmobiling will be permitted in the eight parks only when there is at least a four-inch snow base on frozen ground, Dean said.

They will be restricted to unplowed roads, fire trails, open areas provided for recreational purposes during other seasons, and to designated trails.

Users must register with park management upon arrival at the sites, Dean emphasized.

Still a chance for state lottery law

By RAY SERATI

Springfield — As of now a statewide lottery looks dim for Illinoisans. But as long as the lawmakers remain in session they might just pull the legislation out.

Through the Thanksgiving Day break in the fall session, the legislation seeking to legalize a state lottery has been held up. Several bills were introduced in the fall session. Apparently nothing will happen with lottery legislation until some final determination can be made with legislation on a Regional Transit Authority (RTA) for Northeastern Illinois.

Suggestions have been made that revenues from a lottery could be used to help finance the proposed RTA.

But this has brought some opposition called for the revenues to be used for mental health needs and public education needs.

When the lottery bill was first passed in the House during the spring session, the proceeds would have been split between two categories.

If the lottery were to get tied up with the RTA, it could mean long debate in the General Assembly. Many of the legislators feel that the majority of the funds for the RTA should be raised in the area which will be served by the RTA.

Several states have already approved legislation for a lottery. As it always the case, lottery causes arguments from both sides of the question.

Support has been growing for a statewide lottery in the Illinois General Assembly, particularly since bingo was legalized several years ago.

Opponents of the lottery continue to maintain that it will not bring in all of the money supporters say it will.

Supporters of the lottery want some kind of final determination of the legislation during this fall session. If the legislation can't be moved this time, they will have to plan a new attack for the legislature when it reconvenes next year.

But as long as the General Assembly remains in session, don't completely close the book on the lottery legislation, or for that matter on any other legislation. The deliberations only, no snowmobiling permitted on park lands. and two speakers were stolen from the car of Avery Schermer, 2600 Edison Ave. Schermer reported last week.

The auto's wiring also was damaged.

Hearing Wednesday on Venice school project

A public hearing will be held Wednesday, Dec. 5, at 7 p.m. in the Venice High School library to discuss a Venice School District proposal for a new Title VII project geared to help eliminate minority group isolation and possible discrimination.

Robert N. Vickers, assistant superintendent, said that Title VII, also known as the Emergency School Aid Act, provides funds for three broad purposes:

To meet the special needs incident to the elimination of minority group segregation and discrimination among students and faculty in elementary and secondary schools.

To encourage the voluntary elimination, reduction, or prevention of minority group isolation in elementary and secondary schools with substantial proportions of minority group students.

To aid school children in overcoming the educational disadvantages of minority group isolation.

Asst. Supl. Vickers said that a district-wide advisory committee was established and has met to discuss and assess the needs of students in relation to the proposed project.

He noted that the advisory committee will be involved in the development of the proposal and will review the proposal prior to its submission.

Additionally, Vickers noted, the committee will have an ongoing responsibility to serve as liaison between the community and school regarding all phases of the program.

Members of the advisory committee are Jeannette Wilkinson, Donna Hoover, Herman Smith, Carrie Markins, Rosetta Roberts, Florence Durer, Viola McNease, Linda Freeman, Mary Free, Terri Varner, Ronald Taylor and June McClain.

ENTERS GCBS SOUTH

A young man was seen running from Granite City High School-South this week and officers found that the building had been entered and several rooms ransacked. A radio, television, small safe and a clock were placed near a rear exit but were not taken. The glass around the principal's door was broken and the office ransacked. Also entered and ransacked were the rental book storage room and room 132. Entry was gained by breaking a window in room 132. The man fled in an old foreign car.

Goldwater comment hits Sen. Percy in mid-air

Washington — Sen. Barry Goldwater's dart thrown at Sen. Charles H. Percy's presidential prospects in 1976 caught the Illinois Republican in flight to Hawaii for the Thanksgiving recess.

The ranking conservative spokesman for his party, the Arizona Republican was quoted in a United Press International interview as saying he wouldn't give Percy a 10 per cent chance of winning the 1976 presidential nomination.

"He's too inconsistent," Goldwater was quoted on Percy's chances. "He wanders all over hell's half acre."

Percy's office here said the senator had not read the interview but had learned the gist of it while flying from Chicago to Hawaii for a family holiday during the Senate's recess.

Percy, checking in with his office by phone from the San Francisco airport Wednesday, had this reaction to Goldwater's statement and comment that he doubted Percy could even win the support of the Illinois delegation:

"That's about the same chance they (apparently the Republican conservatives) gave me in 1966 when I ran against Douglas."

Percy challenged Sen. Paul H. Douglas, the Democratic incumbent, in the 1966 Illinois senatorial campaign and won the election with a 422,302 vote plurality.

Percy called his office during the San Francisco stopover to check on the committee status of a slightly revised version of his special Watergate Prosecutor Bill he had introduced Tuesday. Percy continues to insist that the president appoint the prosecutor with the advice and consent of the Senate, but he wants safeguards against summary dismissal. Percy is willing to permit dismissal for cause, but now with the provision the courts could appoint an interim prosecutor pending a new presidential nomination.

The Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday sent to the Senate both the Hart-Byrd Bill to let a three-judge panel pick the prosecutor and the so-called "Taft Compromise," an administration-backed bill requiring the Attorney General to name a prosecutor within 15 days of enactment.

The committee's unanimous decision to send both bills to the Senate floor without recommendation was a compromise to avoid a threatened stalemate.

Percy's aides said he was disappointed his bill did not receive favorable committee action and that the Illinois Senator is determined to bring it to the floor himself and offer it as a substitute bill.

Percy has argued for his bill at the White House and is convinced the "Taft Compromise" will get no more than "modest support on the floor," aides said.

The "reporting out" date for the special prosecutor legislation is Dec. 3, but the Senate is not expected to take action on the bills until a day or two later, according to Senate sources.

The Who records a masterpiece

To many artists in the recording world, volume seems to be the key word instead of quality. The more they can cram down the public's throat the better they feel, whether it is good or bad.

The result is that record shops are filled to the ceiling with a lot of nonsense which eventually ends up on a 99-cent rack just to clear the shelves.

This, however, is not true of The Who, one of MCA's superstar groups from England. They have worked for two years on their latest LP, "Quadrophonia," before they felt it was ready to meet the public's ears. In short they have turned out a well-thought-out masterpiece both musically and lyrically, which will go down as one of the classics in contemporary musical history.

"Quadrophonia" is a two-record concept album which tells of the trials and tribulations of Jimmy, the main character, during England's sixties mods and rockers days.

Peter Kameron, The Who's manager, explained the album this way: "This young man, Jimmy, is a composite study of the four members of The Who and their relationship to our rock or pop generation, and their hopes and aspirations. 'Quadrophonia' holds a goal similar to that of 'Tommy,' a goal towards the enlightenment or recognition of society, the social aspect and truth of what's going on."

Unlike Tommy, however, this LP runs along a much simpler path in its story, but this in no way hinders the musical abilities of the group. The Who consists of Peter Dinklage, Roger Daltry, John Entwistle and Keith Moon, and their combined talents come together like a well-matched set of silver.

Peter penned the entire set and along with his guitar and Roger's much improved vocals the group lets you travel along with Jimmy as the sounds of rain, wind and the sea set the scene. The album also contains a 44-page photo essay depicting Jimmy's various encounters. A couple of the outstanding tracks include "Real Me," "Helpless Dancer," "Cut My Hair" and "Love Reign O'er Me."

You may think you're seeing double when you spot the album — "Domino Conducts Milnes! Milnes Conducts Domino!" But listening to such selections as "The Toreador Song" from Bizet's "Carmen" (Sherrill Milnes, baritone, with Placido Domingo conducting) and "Quinto salasso estremo" from Boito's "Mefistofele" (Placido Domingo, tenor, with Sherrill Milnes conducting) you recognize what a neat musical trick this offering on RCA's Red Seal album really is.

The recording was made in London with the New Philharmonia Orchestra, though both men are with the Metropolitan Opera — Milnes from Bowmer's Grove, Ill., and Domingo from Madrid.

Both Domingo and Milnes have strong, vibrant voices and their directing shows a singer's knowledge of the requirements of the roles while their singing displays a director's interpretation of atmosphere and mood.

Erich Korngold, the prolific Czechoslovakian-born composer who died in 1957, had few illusions about the music that he composed for so many top Hollywood films. He felt the scores would perish swiftly. But he was wrong. His scores live long after the movies were buried and forgotten. RCA now has released more of the classic film scores of Korngold in an LP called "Elizabeth and Essex." The scores include "The Private Lives of Elizabeth and Essex," "The Prince and the Pauper," "Anthony Adverse" (which won an Academy award), "The Sea Wolf," and "Of Human Bondage." This is lush music with a full-bodied orchestral sound.

St. John United scene of Jacobs-Probert wedding

St. John United Church of Christ was the scene of the wedding of Miss Sandra Lee Probert, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Probert, 1529 St. Clair Ave., and Michael Wayne Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest R. Jacobs, 1533 St. Clair Ave., on Nov. 17.

The Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner performed the double ring ceremony at 6 p.m. before an altar decorated with vases of white gladiolus and "mums and branched candelabra holding burning tapers.

Mrs. Irene Barrick presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. Mary Balscer, soloist, who sang a program of nuptial selections.

Mr. Probert escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle, which was illuminated with lighted candles in aisle standards festooned with satin bows.

She chose a gown of white satin and Alencon lace. Full bishop sleeves of lace embellished with pearls were set into a modish bodice featuring a scoop neckline.

The A-line silhouette skirt and detachable train were embellished with matching lace motifs that were repeated on the detachable train. A Juliet cap held in place her long mantilla veil bordered in the Alencon lace, and she held a cascade of white Elenore carnations, snowdrift pom poms and greenery.

Mrs. James Patterson, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a full length, A-line style gown created in green crepe with a round neckline and long sleeves. Gold buttons accented the bodice and cuffs and tiny gold ribbon bows enhanced the back of the dress.

Miss Mimi Palazzola, Miss Gayle Gray, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Debbie Jacobs, the groom's niece, served as bridesmaids.

Their dresses were identically styled in green and gold. Nosegay bouquets of pom daisies in gold, yellow and rust, intermingled with wheat stalks, were carried by the attendants.

Both flower girls, Kim Smith, a niece of the groom, and Amy Patterson, the bride's niece, wore frocks similar in style to the adult attendants' dresses. Each carried a basket of fall flower petals.

Steven Jacobs, a nephew of the groom, served as ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Larry Jacobs. Bill and Charles Jacobs, also brothers of the groom, Gary Hammond, a nephew of the groom, James Patterson, the bride's brother-in-law, and Dave Wise, a cousin of the groom, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Probert, selected a floor length blue coat and dress ensemble. The groom's mother, Mrs. Jacobs, was attired in a full length pink dress. Both mothers wore white ruffled corsages.

A reception for guests was held immediately following the ceremony at the Croatian Home in Madison.

Members of the wedding party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner given by the Price to be next dean of U. S. delegation

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record

Washington Bureau
The old baseball writer from East St. Louis hasn't given much thought to his prospective new title, dean of the 24-member Illinois congressional delegation.

Melvin Price, 68, a Democrat in his 15th consecutive term, is the ranking Illinois congressman in line to succeed Leslie C. Arends, 78, a Republican who is retiring at the end of his 20th consecutive term.

Arends is not only the senior Illinoisan, he is the ranking House Republican and House minority whip. On Jan. 3, 1975, Arends will end 40 years in the House, 39 as whip, a record in itself.

"I hadn't really thought about it," said Price, en route to the Rayburn cafeteria line during the House's Thanksgiving recess. "That's more than a year away."

Price expects no change in the way he and Arends have carried out the joint responsibilities as senior party spokesmen for Illinois on matters affecting the state.

"Certainly the title of dean of the delegation doesn't mean much, except who has been around here the longest," Price said.

Although it is largely honorary and carries no perquisites of office, the title does imply leadership and entail some responsibility, mostly on problems brought here by the governor and state administrators.

Price said two current examples are the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's $248 million claim against Illinois and the location of a new airport in the greater St. Louis area.

Arends and Price have worked closely as party leaders here on Illinois problems, but the veteran Republican took his Democratic colleague completely by surprise with his retirement announcement.

"I was close to him, but I had no hint," said Price, adding that he found Arends a "very effective man" to work with, one "you never had to ask twice" to get something done.

After varied stints as newspaper correspondent, sports writer and editor, St. Clair County supervisor and a decade as aide to former Rep. Edwin M. Schaefer, Price was elected in 1945 to the 78th Congress. He's been here since, rising to 10th in Democratic seniority in the House and chairman of two committees.

The Joint Committee on Atomic Energy and the House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct. He is the second ranking majority member of the House Armed Services Committee as well.

As dean of Illinoisans, the 23rd district Democrat will have Rep. Robert H. Michel of Peoria as his Republican counterpart.

Michel, the prospective dean of Illinois Republicans, ranks eighth among Republicans in House seniority. The 18th district congressman was elected to the 85th Congress in 1956 and is in his ninth consecutive term.

Michel is chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee. He is fourth ranking minority member on the House Appropriations Committee, his only committee assignment.

"Boy, how time flies," said Michel, contemplating his rise to Republican seniority in the Illinois delegation. Shortly before Arends' announcement, Michel had been number three, right behind Rep. Harold R. Collier (R-Sixth District), a freshman "classmate" of the 85th Congress Collier announced his own pending retirement about a week before Arends did.

EPA hearings on feedlot requirements due soon

The Illinois EPA has proposed a new set of feedlot requirements which would focus attention on operations already known to be polluters, or with the potential to be polluters, and leave others in the animal industry pretty much alone.

James Frank, agricultural advisor in the EPA, said the new proposals have been submitted to the state's Pollution Control Board and public hearings are expected to be held between January and March of next year.

Last year the EPA proposed a series of regulations which drew outbursts of protest from farmers and feeders as expensive, unnecessarily broad, impractical, and unenforceable.

After a series of six public hearings around the state, the EPA requested that the PCB suspend consideration of the regulations, and an advisory committee of 17 representatives of agricultural and environmental groups was named to draw up new proposals.

A total of 157 witnesses was heard in two meetings, Frank said, before the present plan was drawn up.

The basic changes, he said, will be to put emphasis on people who are either already known to be polluting, or who have the potential to do so. In addition, "these proposals can't possibly be construed as a control of pasture operations," one of the main objections previously, he said.

Illinois has about 40,000 feeding operations in the state, but only 125 permits will be issued. Only about 100 of these 40,000 are known to be of a size requiring permits, and about 25 are known to be polluters, he said.

By not bothering those who aren't creating a problem, Frank said, far less paperwork will be involved.

Under the new proposals, operators will be required to apply for a permit if the operation is a confined feeding facility not producing feed, with 1,000 pounds of live weight confined in 600 square feet for 30 days or more of the year.

Other regulations would cover operations with 1,000 or more beef, 2,500 swine weighing 55 pounds or more, 700 dairy cattle, and 30,000 to 100,000 poultry, depending on the methods of waste disposal used.

If the PCB adopts the plan after the public hearings, it will be submitted to the federal EPA for approval, Frank said, and if that approval is given, administration of the program would start next summer.

The USEPA already is issuing some permits as part of its water program, Frank said, and these are transferable by those already holding them when state regulations are adopted.

Should the state fail to have workable programs adopted before Dec. 31, 1974, the federal EPA standards would be applied to the state, he added.

In the past, the general attitude of protesters fell into three groups, Frank said: those who maintained there is no pollution problem from animal wastes, those who agreed there was "some" problem but said economics wouldn't allow abatement and continued production, or those who felt there was "some" problem but other existing regulations could handle it.

Motor fuel tax allotted

Illinois municipalities have been allocated $3,888,998 as their share of motor fuel taxes paid into the state treasury during October, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation which also listed allotments to counties and townships.

Counties throughout the state received $3,333,122 (except Cook County), while the townships and road districts received a total of $2,777,593. Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the townships on the basis of mileage in the individual districts; to the counties on the basis of motor vehicle registration fees, and in the cities on the basis of population. October allocations to municipalities included $37,928 to Granite City, $6,064 to Madison and $4,362 to Venice. Madison County received $28,510. Township allocations in Madison County totaled $33,668.
